Laos Princes Agree On Coalition Gov't

Will Bring 2-Year Civil War To End

Seven Posts In Government Held By Neutralists

KHANG KHAY, Laos (UPI)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma today announced that agreement has been reached by the rival Laotian princes on formation of a coalition government for Laos.

Souvanna said the new government would officially come into being with the signing of a formal agreement here Tuesday by himself, pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong and right-wing Prince Boun Oum, the present premier.

The three rival princes resumed peace talks in this rebel-held stronghold last week.

RIGHT-WING

"It gives me great pleasure to announce that a government of national coalition is formed," Souvanna told newsmen following a daylong session with Souphanouvong and Boun Oum.

"We are writing an accord," he said. "This record will be examined Tuesday morning and will be signed Tuesday."

The accord, it is hoped, will end almost two years of civil war in which the pro-Communist and neutralist Laotian forces seized almost two-thirds of Laos.

The agreement gives seven government posts to Souvanna's neutralists, four to Souphanouvong's Pathet Lao, four to Boun Oum's right-wing faction and four to "neutralists" who have supported Boun Oum.

Souvanna will be premier and pro-Western Phoumi Nosavan and Souphanouvong will be vice premiers.

Phoumi also will serve as minister of finance while Souphanouvong will be minister of economic planning.

Both the right-wing and pro-Communist factions will get one other ministry and two secretary of state posts.

The Boun Oum "neutralists" will get three ministries and one secretaryship.

Souvanna's followers will hold four ministries and two secretary of state posts.

GOP Counting On Market, Estes Scandal

To Help Win Control Of House In Fall Elections

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Republicans are counting heavily on uneasiness in the stock market and the Billie Sol Estes scandal to help them win control of the House in the November election.

Members of the Republican National Committee open formal sessions today with far more optimistic feelings about the election results than they had a month ago.

National Chairman William E. Miller put this feeling into words when he told a gathering of Young Republicans: "We have the issues on our side this time. We are going to win in November."

The issues, as spelled out by Miller and other committee members, revolve around what they called a lack of confidence by the business community in President Kennedy—as exemplified by the stock market's gyrations—a reputed effort by the President to enlarge executive power and a new GOP slogan that there are "too many Kennedys in government."

WORLD'S FAIR

Fred Scribner of Maine, the committee's general counsel, said a national party survey indicates the people in general "are not nearly as happy as they were with the way the country is being run."

Individual committee members reported a lift in Republican spirits, most of which was due to what they said was adverse reaction to Kennedy's steel price roll back tactics. Several mentioned the revelations concerning Estes' manipulations in grain storage and cotton acreage allotments in Texas as being likely to damage Democrats.

A typical report came from South Dakota committeeman Carroll Lockhart, whose state was honored at a World's Fair ceremony Sunday.

"The anti-administration feeling in our state is so strong that I believe we are going to have a substantial victory there in November," Lockhart said.

Kennedy Makes Plea For United Economic Front

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—President Kennedy urged today that critics, business and political, discard "wornout slogans" and join hands with the government to pump new strength and confidence into the nation's economy.

Kennedy vowed his clash with the steel industry did not mean his administration is hostile toward business.

But in a speech prepared for Yale University's commencement, he said the government is obliged to exercise "watchful concern for our economic health" while business and labor must live up to their public responsibilities.

Kennedy said economic problems bearing down on a free economy cannot be solved without separating myth from reality—and he said it is mythical to contend that government is big and getting worse or to argue that deficits in the federal budget always create inflation.

He responded by implication to charges by Republicans, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and some spokesmen for business that his policies touched off recent stock market gyrations.

Among false issues which he said are frustrating efforts to push the economy forward, Kennedy declared "is the assertion that any and all unfavorable turns of the speculative wheel—however temporary and however plainly speculative in character--are the result of 'lack of confidence in the national administration.' "

Schiro To Get Spanish Medal

MADRID, Spain (AP) — New Orleans Mayor Victor H. Schiro was to receive a gold key to the city of Madrid today at a gala dinner at the Madrid City Hall.

Schiro and a group of New Orleans residents are on a goodwill trip to Spain and Portugal, under the sponsorship of International House of New Orleans.

The group was greeted by Deputy Mayor Jose Soler and other municipal officials when it arrived in Madrid Saturday from Lisbon. The group visited Toledo Sunday.

Davis Attempts To Rescue Reily From Deficit Jam

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis today was set to kill a resolution calling on the Commissioner of Administration James S. Reily to explain why he said the state deficit was kept quiet.

While the House postponed action on the resolution until today, Davis was busy last night button-holing lawmakers.

He called several lawmakers to his office in an effort to gain support for the defeat of Rep. Elmer Bernard's resolution.

Davis' chief floor leader, Rep. Risley Triche of Napoleonville, attempted to kill the resolution last night by moving to table it, but Speaker Thomas Jewel, an administration lawmaker himself, ruled Triche's motion out of order.

The House then voted 51 to 34 against suspending the rules for a Sunday night vote.

The resolution was on the calender for final passage when the House convened at 11 a.m. today.

This means that the resolution will be brought before the house for a vote today.

With Reily looking on, Rep. Risley Triche, chief floor leader, of Napoleaonville moved to table the resolution, which would have killed it.

But Jewell, an administration lawmaker himself, ruled from the chair, "Now just a minute, Mr. Triche; that's not in order."

Triche argued, but Jewell repeated, "The chair will have to rule that the resolution will have to come up tomorrow."

Several lawmakers took the floor to speak at the quietest Sunday night session so far, but Triche accused Bernard of "railroading" the resolution through the house education committee Thursday afternoon.

"Why did you send the resolution to the education committee?" asked Rep. Edward J. Lebreton of New Orleans.

"Because I thought the people of this state needed education" Bernard answered.

IN ADDRESS

The resolution was introduced after Reily was quoted as saying to the New Orleans Rotary Club: "When we found there would be a deficit, we wouldn't acknowledge it publicily. We had to keep the confidence of banks, schools

BOBBY WILSON

Wilson Unfolds Platform For State Board

West Monroe's only candidate in the race for Fifth District member on the Louisiana State Board of Education is Bobby C. Wilson.

A teacher at West Monroe High School, Wilson is running on a six-point platform:

1. Expanded facilities for state colleges.
2. Support of special schools, trade and vocational - technical schools.
3. Improved salaries and benefits for teachers and school employees.
4. Maintenance of segregated schools.
5. Coordinating education in state colleges and universities.
6. Economy and efficiency in the total program of education.

Wilson, 37, resides at 115 Maridale, with his wife, the former Miss Beverly Ringwald, and their children, Jan, eight, and Lynn, six.

"It is my firm conviction," he states, "that never in the history of Louisiana public education have the people of our state needed so desperately a dedicated and experienced classroom teacher on the State Board of Education.

"Because I am deeply concerned about every phase of public education, I have decided to offer myself as a candidate for State School Board member from the Fifth Congressional District.

"I feel that because of my experience as a teacher in the public schools, I am acutely aware of the problems and needs of public education.

"If elected, I will work toward the fulfillment of the following:

"A guidance counselor in every elementary school and one for every 250 students in the secondary schools;

"The establishment of a committesappointed by the State Board of Education to study the drop-out problem;

"The possibility of each high

Kids Go West

Mrs. Lois West, 815 North Fourth Street, West Monroe, confirmed herself as a hit with the kids of her neighborhood Sunday afternoon when she sponsored a lawn party, spontaneously. She spread a table with goodies, including sandwiches, cookies and punch, then put out word that a party was on.

Within 10 minutes some 30 youngsters were satisfying their appetites.

IN BATHROOM PLUMBING

Snake Caught In Tug-Of-War

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — College student Mike Krieger wanted to help a friend's snake work up an appetite, so he put the 7-foot anaconda in a bathtub of warm water in his apartment.

As frequently happens when someone is in the tub, the phone rang.

Krieger, 20, returned to find the anaconda—which crushes its prey like the boa constrictor — disappearing down the toilet. He grabbed its tail and started pulling.

In the next apartment, Bob Titsworth, a graduate student at California Institute of Technology where Krieger is an undergradiate, happened to look into his bathroom, unaware of the drama next door. The snake's head had appeared in his plumbing.

Still unaware of dual interest, each man bent to the task of saving the snake. Mike an dtwo friends — not wanting neighbors to know of their pet — tugged at the tail. Bob enlisted two fire department units, several policemen and a Humane Society worker in a try to coax the snake out.

It took an hour and a half for the two factions to learn they were at odds over the ends.

The men then broke the plumbing and retrieved the snake, by now perhaps with an appetite but certainly with little stomach for further such adventures.

The Humane Society took custody.

Krieger explained that the warm water in the tub helped the snake — a cold-blooded tropical animal — raise its body temperature and thus feel more interested in eating.

Bishop Orders Atlanta Area Schools Mixed

Historic Decision Has Support Of Laymen, Mayor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has ordered Atlanta archdiocesan schools desegregated this fall in a move supported by leading Catholic laymen and the mayor of Atlanta.

The historic decision applied to Catholic schools in the 71 north Georgia counties of the archdiocese where about 7,500 pupils are enrolled. The total includes 735 Negroes, all in Atlanta.

Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan said it was up to local bishops elsewhere in the archdiocesan province to decide what action to take in their areas. That included other sections of Georgia as well as North and South Carolina and Florida, all under the archbishop's titular control.

The desegregation decision was announced in a pastoral letter read during Sunday services in all the churches of the north Georgia archdiocese.

"Catholic children, regardless of race or color, will be admitted to Catholic schools of the archdiocese as of Sept. 1, 1962," the letter said.

"I think it is something long overdue," commented Catholic layman G. Albert Lawton, president of Georgia International Life Insurance Co., who moved to Atlanta from Connecticut three years ago. His two children attend Catholic schools in Rhode Island and New York.

Another Catholic layman, Superior Court Judge Sam P. McKenzie of the Atlanta Judicial Circuit, said he was confident the Archbishop "will get the support of a great majority of the Catholics in the archdiocese."

Moslem Auxiliary Police Shoot Down Europeans

ALGIERS (AP)—Moslem auxiliary policemen today fired on Europeans near the Algiers dockyards, killing three and wounding six.

The uniformed Moslem policemen said Europeans attacked them and they shot back. Two Europeans riding in a truck near the scene of the shooting were seized and held as hostages.

A European police official said the Moslems, who were guarding a dockworkers' hiring point, opened fire without provocation on Europeans passing by.

Secret Army Organization commandos struck in a Sahara oil field Sunday in their "scorched-earth" warfare but a Moslem national leader said the terrorist fire power is fading.

Terrorist saboteurs blasted a well being drilled in the Sahara, about 60 miles south of the big Hassi Messaoud oil field, and set off a spectacular gas fire.

French officials expressed fears that the secret army, whose hard core now is believed to be largely French army deserters, would attempt to blow up dams, railroads and oil installations in their campaign to leave the country in ruins for the future Moslem rulers.

Chawki Mostefai, a spokesman for the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN), told newsmen Algeria's Europeans were turning against the secret army fanatics. "It would not be rash to foresee a halt in the present events," he said.

'Ham' Decision Allowed To Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today a lower court decision that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman lacks authority to require that a label "imitation ham" be placed on smoked ham to which water has been added.

The decision against the secretary was by the U.S. Court of Appeals here which called the secretary's order "capricious and arbitrary." Freeman appealed to the highest court.

The Supreme Court order noting that it would not review the lower court decision said that Chief Justice Warren and Justice Black favored hearing the case. Justice Frankfurter took no part, making the court's vote 6-2.

Brake Failure Possibility In Train Crash

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Investigators are looking into the possibility that the air brakes of a Northern Pacific luxury train failed on a mountain curve Sunday, sending 15 cars plunging down a 100-foot embankment.

A child was killed and 219 of the train's 350 passengers were injured. Sixty-eight of the passengers were held overnight in Missoula hospitals for further treatment and observation. The others were treated and released. The train was en route from Seattle to Chicago and many aboard were returning home from the World's Fair.

SPEED RECORD

Reports from passengers and train personnel suggested the train was exceeding the 35 mile-an-hour speed limit on the steep curve, 15 miles northwest of here.

The train's speed recorder tape will be given to Interstate Commerce Commission investigators, either at Missoula or Washington, D.C., a Northern Pacific official said at St. Paul, Minn. He wouldn't divulge what the recorder showed, except to say the speed was a "good deal slower"

'Flag Day' In Twin Cities Slated June 14

Mayors of the Twin Cities are slated to sign proclamations today declaring June 14 as Flag Day in Monroe and West Monroe. Their action will start a round of activities climaxing in the national observance Thursday.

Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard and West Monroe Mayor J. Allan Norris are due to sign the proclamations this afternoon, according to Mrs. W. L. Alexander, senior president of the Children of the American Revolution, which sponsors the local program.

Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m., CAR representatives will present a new 50-star flag to the Ouachita Parish Police Jury.

The flag, has flown over the Capitol in Washington, D. C., according to a certificate from J. George Stewart, capitol building architect.

U. S. Rep. Otto E. Passman of Monroe obtained the flag for the CAR, with the understanding that it was to be presented for the courthouse.

On Thursday, CAR members will sell 50-star lapel flags in downtown Monroe, West Monroe and the Twin City Shopping Center on Louisville Avenue.

Proceeds will go to further the CAR's patriotic work.

Ol' Windy Whiffandbiff, back in action after a few days' layoff, expected humid weather today, coupled with partly cloudy skies and afternoon scattered thundershowers.

High today and Tuesday will be 88 and the low 70.

High Sunday was 89 and the low was 67. Sunset today is due at 7:15 p.m. and sunrise Tuesday will be at 5 a.m.

WEEKEND ROUNDUP

Accidents Claim 7 Lives In State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven persons lost their lives in weekend accidents in Louisiana—including an 11-year-old youngster who drowned on an outing with Boy Scouts.

The youngster was Richard Comacho of Lafayette. He drowned Saturday in the Whiskey Chitter River in Allen Parish about five miles north of LeBlanc.

Lester Williams, 17, of Baton Rouge, drowned Sunday while swimming in a private pond in Baton Rouge.

In New Orleans, Philip F. Taranto of Chalmette was killed Sunday as he was being rushed to a hospital with a broken wrist. A police emergency unit truck carrying Taranto collided with an auto. Six other persons were hurt, including two patrolmen in the truck.

EASTERN APPROACH

John L. Butler, 32, Negro, was killed after he drove his car into a neutral ground drainage ditch in New Orleans Saturday. Police were pursuing him.

Rodney L. Day of Baton Rouge was killed early Saturday when his car struck an abutment after he apparently tried to pass another car. The accident occurred on the eastern approach to the Mississippi River bridge at Baton Rouge.

Terri Rhonda Squyres, 3, of Houston, Tex., was killed Saturday when the car her mother was driving crashed off a highway near Hicks. Four other children were in the car but no one else was hurt.

Billy Carlton, 19, of Bastrop, was killed Saturday night when his car collided with a tandem trailer truck south of Bastrop.

Louisiana Tech Prospect Killed

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Michael Charles Payne, 19, was killed early Sunday in a fight between two groups of boys outside a Fort Worth night club.

Police said Payne was leaving the club with friends when three youths confronted them. An argument started, and one of the youths was struck over the head with a beer bottle.

Hundreds Of Franco Foes Rounded Up

MADRID (AP) — Hundreds of opponents of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's dictatorship have been reported arrested in a sweeping roundup of dissidents of all political shades.

Five leading morarchists were caught in the dragnet as they returned from a meeting of Spanish oppositionists in Munich, Germany. Three of them refused an offer of exile and were flown today to forced residence in the Canary Islands. Two went into exile in Paris.

Those flown to Fuerte Ventura, second largest of the Canaries, were Joaquin de Satrustegui, an executive of the Spanish affiliate of the American-owned Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.; Fernando Alvarez de Miranda, 40, nephew of the Marquis of Valdivia and a Madrid city employe, and Jaime Miralles, member of a prominent old family.

Families of the three men said they were not allowed to visit them or speak to them after they were arrested during the weekend. Under a new decree they can be kept in forced residence for two years.

The monarchist leaders who chose exile were Jose Maria Gil Robles and Jesus Prados Arrarte, a noted economist and professor at Madrid University.

'OLD RASCAL MOVES ON'

Pastor Resigns —For 2nd Time

DECATUR, Ga. (AP)—"I don't want to stay around here, "the minister told his board of stewards, "until you fellows look at me askance and say, 'Why doesn't that old rascal move on?' "

The Rev. Walter Scott Robinson then retired from active ministry for the second time in 91 years.

He retired the first time in 1942 when he reached the mandatory retirement age of 72. He soon returned to the pulpit as a supply pastor as more and more young ministers were called to the war.

ON GOLF COURSE

He served Decatur's First Methodist church as associate pastor until his recent second retirement. He began his ministerial career as a circuit rider 64 years ago.

An enthusiastic golfer for many years, he still gets out on the course occasionally, but hasn't played much lately "because the old legs have gone back on me. After about six holes I begin to tire."

Robinson began playing golf at 52 when his doctor advised him to give up tennis—"He told me tennis was too strenuous."

Does he think any souls are saved on the golf course?

"I'm sure of it. Golf is a character-building game. It teaches a man sportsmanship which, in its finest sense, is the Golden Rule in action. A man gets to know himself under many sets of circumstances—even as he gets to know the men he is playing with —more often than not comes face to face with realization that the Christian life is the best way of living."

How does he feel about death?

"People ask me about it," he said, "and I tell them I'm not worried. The undertaker knows how to prepare my body and I've got a place beside my wife in the Monroe (Ga.) cemetery.

Court Refuses To Review Beck Tax Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to review the conviction of Dave Beck, former Teamsters Union president, on charges of filing false federal tax returns for the union for 1950 and 1952.

The high tribunal, in a May 14 decision on another appeal, affirmed conviction of Beck on a charge of embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of an automobile owned by the union. He was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment on the embezzlement conviction. The sentence was pronounced in a Washington State court.

SAME TIME

Beck's conviction on the tax charge was in federal court in Tacoma, Wash., in 1958. He was sentenced there to five years in prison and fined $20,000.

The U.S. Circuit Court in San Francisco on Jan. 20, 1962, upheld Beck's conviction of filing false tax returns for his union. At the same time it set aside his conviction of evading more than $240,000 in income taxes. The Circuit Court called for a new trial on the evasion charges, on which Beck had been sentenced to five years and $40,000 fine.

French-German Friendship Mandatory, Says Adenauer

BONN (UPI)—"Close friendship between France and Germany is absolutely in the interest of the United States," Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said here today.

Adenauer replied in these strong terms to public speculation here and in Washington that he will have to choose soon between the stubborn immobility of French President Charles de Gaulle or President Kennedy's policy of accepting "realities."

He is expected to express the same views to U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk here next week. Rusk is coming here to smooth out differences with Adenauer and to determine whether American fears that the German is turning away from Washington in favor of Paris are justified.

I put this question to the West German chancellor:

"Certain quarters in the United States and Britain are concerned about the possible results of a Bonn-Paris axis because of independent action that might result on international questions. Will you say something on this, Mr. Chancellor?"

DIRECT ANSWER

This was his verbatim reply:

"Yes, I will willingly say something on that.

"First, when Mr. Macmillan came back from the United States the press said the two Anglo-Saxon states now had taken the protection of the freedom of the world into their hands.

"I did not cry 'London-Washington axis.'

"See here, France and Germany are neighbor states. We have a long common border. We have often had a common history. In the last 100 years, since Napoleon, we have conducted evil wars against one another.

"I lay great value on the need for close friendship between Germany and France, and I have done so since 1925.

"That was my wish, stemming from history, and from my desire that we achieve a united Europe.

"But a united Europe cannot exist unless France and Germany are real friends, and that is our aim.

"I wish to add something to this."

Here the tall and erect old man, blue eyes gleaming with animation, leaned forward and sketched a map of three nations on the back of an envelope.

"Speaking broadly, the Soviet Union, the Federal Republic of Germany and France lie next to one another. France and the Soviet Union were allied for decades, and we sat in the middle.

"When De Gaulle became premier (of France) in 1944, he went to Moscow and signed a treaty with Moscow against Germany. He told me that himself, when we first met in 1958.

"He told him that in France one then had the fear that Germany would take its revenge one day. It was against that (fear) that he attempted preventive action by taking out reinsurance with Russia.

"He has seen now that Germany has become another country. That is why he decided to abandon the treaty (with the Soviets).

"But we must think about the future," he added. "There must be such strong friendship between France and Germany that France never again would sign a treaty with the Soviet Union against us."

Riders Taken To Barracks At Hyannis

HYANNIS, Mass. (UPI)—Forty-four Negro "Reverse Freedom Riders," shipped here by Southern segregationists, move today to unused army barracks at nearby Camp Edwards.

The Negroes had been staying at the Cape Cod Community College dormitory, but the facility is needed for summer school. So the 37 children and seven adults will live in barracks at the National Guard camp.

Seven more Negroes, including four children, arrived Sunday from Shreveport, La., loaded down with huge steamer trunks containing their belongings.

The new arrivals brought to 61 the number of Negroes shipped here, the site of President Kennedy's summer White House, on one-way bus tickets by Southern segregationist citizens Councils.

Of the 61, 12 have gone elsewhere to look for work, another four moved to Boston and William Ricks, 20, of Little Rock, Ark. went back home on welfare funds.

Five others, who reportedly left Montgomery, Ala., last week, failed to show up.

Arriving Sunday were Matthew Gilbert, 27, his wife Nadgilie, 21, and their four children, ranging in age from three years to three months old.

Hodding Carter To Investigate Rider Destination

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Publisher Hodding Carter of The Greenville, Miss., Delta Democrat-Times, has promised to investigate if Portland, Maine, has been selected as the destination for "Reverse Freedom Riders."

Carter said by phone he doubted the arrival of Clem Stovall, 25-year-old Negro laborer from Noxapater, Miss., in Portland, was a matter of chance. Stovall, who arrived Friday allegedly was sent out of Mississippi for his own safety after an altercation with a white man.

But he told Portland newsmen he had asked to be sent to Cleveland or Evanston, Ill., where he has relatives and friends. The fare would have been cheaper than to Portland.

Court Directs Reapportion Case Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court directed today that a lower court reconsider a suit by a group of New Yorkers challenging constitutionality of apportionment of the New York Legislature.

A three-judge federal court in New York on Jan. 11 dismissed the suit, in which the charge was made that the Senate and Assembly were deliberately apportioned in a manner discriminatory to citizens of metropolitan areas.

The three-judge court ruled the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment did not restrict a state from discriminating against geographical areas with respect to voting.

In a March 26 decision in a Tennessee case, the Supreme Court decided federal courts had the power and duty to consider consitutionality of such apportionments, and that some could be so unfair as to violate the amendment's guarantee of equal protection of the laws.

After the Supreme Court decision, an appeal was filed asking reversal of the three-judge ruling and an order directing the lower tribunal to reconsider the New York complaint.

The appeal was filed by New York radio station WMCA and its president, R. Peter Straus; and Joseph De Maio, Edward Lind, S. Thomas Delaney, Edward C. Brown and James J. McCafferty. The litigation was begun by WMCA before the three-judge court on May 1, 1961.

While WMCA's appeal was pending, the Supreme Court on April 23 held in a Michigan case that malapportionment is a matter for review before state courts as well as federal courts.

Louisiana Guests From Germany Returning Home

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Ten West German storm-refugee children and their teacher start the return trip home today on a bus from here to New York City, where they'll take a boat to Germany.

Eight of the children visited the legislature in Baton Rouge Sunday night where the House made them honorary pages.

Paul Koch, the teacher, told the House in English: "We will do the best in our country to tell our people about your country. There is a lot of misunderstanding about Americans, even in Germany. We are overwhelmed by your hospitality."

Gov. Jimmie Davis invited the group to Louisiana for a six-week visit while their storm-damaged homes were being repaired. Contributions were raised throughout the state. The children stayed with German-speaking families in the New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Shreveport areas.

The visits were in response to donations raised in Berlin last year to aid victims of Hurricane Carla in Louisiana and Texas,

The group is expected to reach Bremerhaven on June 25.

Testimony On Deficit Set

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee prepared to take testimony in a closed session today on Louisiana's deficits for the past two years and the amount of revenues expected for next fiscal year.

The Senate was scheduled to return to work two hours later.

Sen. William Cleveland, Crowley, chairman of the finance committee invited any senators who wishes to attend the executive session in the Senate lounge.

Top state financial and revenues officers were scheduled to appear before the finance committee.

Floor Vote On Liquor Bill Near

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Risley Triche may be ready today to seek a House floor vote on his hotly controversial bill to revise liquor licenses regulations.

Foes charged the effect of the bill would be to take away the package liquor business from supermarkets and drugstores.

During a committee hearing on it last week, Dudley Buyas, representing the Louisiana Retail Dealers Association, charged the bill would discriminate against hundreds of grocery stores and drugstores.

The bill would allow liquor sales only in establishments where alcoholic beverages are the major commodities sold.

Rep. Buford Smith of Avoyelles last night sought to force a floor vote on the measure.

"It's a rotten bill," Smith said. "It's just like a snake in the grass and you ought to kill it."

The Avoyelles lawmaker added, "I think we ought to bring it up tonight. He's just returning to the calendar to pick up support.

But the House sided with Triche, an administration floor leader, and voted 64-12 to return the bill to the calendar. The parliamentary move allows Triche to bring up the bill at another time.

Two Integration Leaders Held In Caddo Prison

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Two Negro integration leaders, who were held in Caddo Parish prison on a coroner's commitment, face arraignment Thursday in city court on loitering charges.

The Rev. Wyatt T. Walker, 33, Atlanta, Ga., executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and Harry Blake, 27, Shreveport, posted bonds of $52.50 each Saturday after they were released to city police.

They were arrested early Saturday night at a Negro vote rally, sponsored by Walker's group and addressed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Walker and Blake were arrested by city police when they refused several requests to leave the area where shortly before police had dispersed some white pickets, representing the National Organization for Whites, and Negro counter-pickets.

Long Says U.S. Power Deterrent To Atomic War

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —.Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said in a weekend speech the United States had the retaliatory force "to completely destroy the Soviet Union" if it were attacked by Russia.

Long made his remarks in a speech delivered at the luanching ceremonies of a new destroyer escort, the USS McCloy, at the Avondale Shipyard near New Orleans.

"We don't have to start a war with anyone because of fear," he said. "We know we are the strongest and we know they (the Russians) know it."

"That is one reason why there will be no war between the U. S. and the Soviet Union."

The wife of U. S. Rep. Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., christened the 371-foot vessel, which was named for a naval officer awarded for anti-submarine warfare, will be outfitted with bow - mounted sonar equipment, torpedoes and remote-controlled helicopters.

Bill To Aid Small Firms Introduced

BATON ROUGE (UPI) —A bill to make it easier for new small businesses to obtain financial help in Louisiana has been introduced in the state Senate.

The proposal, backed by the State Department of Commerce and Industry, was introduced as legislation by Sens. Wendell Harris of Baton Rouge and B. H. (Johnny) Rogers of Grand Cane.

The measure would allow 15 investors — either individuals or business combinations—to form a business development corporation.

These group-owned banks would be empowered to make loans and would cooperate with the Department of Commerce and Industry in promoting small businesses and the resources of the state.

"The aim of the proposed corporations is to furnish financial assistance to small businesses—especially manufacturers — which might not qualify for normal financing," said Henry Davis, director of the Department of Commerce and Industry.

Loan companies would not be eligible for loans under the proposed bill.

Davis said the development corporations could be a source of long-term capital needed by small firms for plant expansion, improvements and development.

By having the legislature establish development corporations, Davis said, new small businesses would not have to rely on community financing or capital.

Harris and Rogers' measure has a safeguard to insure that the corporations have proper backing and good organization. The commerce and industry board would have the final say in granting approval to any group seeking to form a corporation.

4 Additional Bodies Found

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Four more bodies were recovered today, raising to 21 the known number of school children drowned while watching a boat race. Police said the toll might go higher.

An estimated 50 boys and girls, ranging in age from 6 to 16, were aboard the trawler Chieh Shin (Lucky Star) when it capsized Sunday in the Yun River.

U.S. Bars Child Of Marine Hero

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Twelve days ago a United States Marine combat veteran tearfully waved goodbye to a Japanese orphan—his adopted daughter—as his plane left an airport in Japan for this country.

Left behind was 10-year-old Yukie Fukkii Baker, snarled in red tape neither she nor M. Sgt. Stanley G. Baker could understand.

Baker, 39, who fought in World War II battles from Guadalcanal to Okinawa and in the Korean War action at Inchon, burst into tears as he talked to a reporter at his home in this Los Angeles suburb.

The child, who lost her real parents two years ago, couldn't understand Baker's explanations the day before he left without her—a day spent bicycling in the country and having a picnic.

"I tried to explain it to her," Baker said. "But how can you tell a little girl about laws you can't make sense of yourself?"

Baker and his Japanese-born wife, Shizue, 36, decided last year when he was ordered back to Japan for a 14-month duty tour that they would adopt a Japanese child. Mrs. Baker stayed here to keep up the house and get it ready for a child.

The sergeant saw Yukie in an orphanage shortly before Christmas.

"I knew right away that was the little girl I wanted to adopt," he said. She was listless and uninterested, but she started to brighten up after he showed her pictures of their dog and cat, their home and Mrs. Baker.

"One day I asked her, 'How would you like to come to America and live with us?' She was so happy she cried."

He adopted her in the Yamaguchi Court of Domestic Affairs on Feb. 23, with his wife's power of attorney. Then a hitch developed.

Baker said it was because the child must have a visa to enter the United States. Before it can be issued, the California Department of Social Welfare must make a "pre-adoptive" study to assure the Bakers' suitability as parents.

But social welfare officials say they can't make such a study because adoption has already taken place in Japan.

Baker retired July 1 after 22 years with the Marines.

Angry and frustrated, he says: "My wife and I love our home here. We don't want to give it up.

"But if we have to, we'll move back to Japan so we can live there with our daughter."

Martin Thinks Only Of Career In Quitting Film

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Dean Martin widened the breach in the family spat between Marilyn Monroe and 20th Century Fox Studios Sunday when he refused to appear in the film "Something's got to Give" because the studio fired the shapely blonde from the production.

"I agreed to do this movie because Marilyn Monroe was going to costar and it would have been great for my career," explained Martin. "Now that she isn't going to do it, the picture doesn't look too good to me."

The studio fired Marilyn and slapped her with a half million dollar breach of contract suit Friday because of absenteeism.

Blonde Lee Remick was named to replace the famed glamour girl.

Asked if he would consider starring opposite another actress, Martin said "absolutely not."

"I have the greatest respect for Miss Lee Remick and her talent and for all the other actresses who were considered for the role, but I signed to do the picture with Marilyn Monroe and I will do it with no one else," said Martin.

"It is not because I feel sorry for Marilyn or because I think she is right or wrong," the singer-actor added. "I'm just thinking about my career."

Friends Plague Both East, West

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

It would be understandable these days if U.S. statesmen were in a snappish mood, like men confronted by the incomprehensible.

The way the news has been looking, the statesmen could easily get the impression that the only comforting news comes from Moscow.

The Soviet government is up to its ears in economic trouble. It has had to boost food prices sharply and then make embarrassing explanations to its public.

Russian youngsters are becoming worrisome, as if infected by something that old Bolsheviks might well call creeping capitalism.

The Russians have trouble with their rambunctious Chinese allies and with little Albania.

But what's happening elsewhere?

The United States has its own trouble with its fractious friends.

President Charles De Gaulle's government, still in a mess with Algeria, has its own ideas about how the North Atlantic Alliance should operate, and tends to be unruly.

The West Germans are peeved whenever the United States seems to want to talk to the Russians about Berlin instead of threatening to toss rockets at them.

The British can't seem to make up their minds whether to get into the Common Market or stay out of it.

The United States, devoutly endorsing the Common Market as the wave of the future, finds the arrangement getting in its nair, what with tariff retaliation whenever the Americans insist on protecting their own domestic industries.

The news from Southeast Asia is increasingly dolorus. In Indochina, Laos seems to be withering on the vine, and the Communists won't give South Viet Nam any rest.

India is angry at the United States because of its military support of Pakistan, which is allied with Washington in the Central Treaty Organization. So India dickers with the Russians for supersonic jet fighters. But since Red China is angry at India, it is making friendly gestures toward Pakistan, supporting the Pakistani claim to Kashmir and offering—of all things—economic help to Pakistan.

Syria is talking all over again about federation with Egypt in the United Arab Republic. That has the scent of trouble to it, because the Syrians usually don't talk that way unless they're afraid of something else.

In South America, the Alliance for Progress doesn't seem to be going places. Reforms—tax, land, administrative and the like—seem to languish or get lost in committees or just remain in the talking stage.

Crisis or the threat of crisis hovers over a half-dozen Latin countries, and painful embarassment for the United States lurks around almost every corner.

Maybe if the United States had only Russia to deal with, and Russia had only the United States to deal with, things might be a bit easier for statesmen on both sides of the fence.

Bird Has Eye For Security

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP) — Somewhere in this city is a bird who really knows how to feather his nest.

Thomas Siconio was trimming a tree in his back yard when a bird's nest fell to the ground. His wife spotted a bit of green woven into the nest. It was a dollar bill.

Japanese Court Fines Caddo Soldiers $70

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese court has fined a Shreveport, La., soldier 25,000 yen (about $70) for ripping two brass letter plates off the gates of the Soviet embassy.

An Army spokesman said Sunday that Pvt. Thomas James Fulkerson Jr., returned the plates to Japanese police with an apology three days after the incident May 6, during Soviet cosmonaut Juri Gagarin's visit to Japan.

Fulkerson, who is stationed at Camp Drake, near Tokyo, could not be reached for comment.

Fulkerson was fined under provisions of the Japanese criminal cote covering destruction of property.

Encouraging Senate Vote On Foreign Aid

There was an encouraging sign in the U.S. Senate last week that some of the fuzzy thinking concerning foreign aid and the weaning process might disappear.

The Senate first voted 57-24 against sending any of next year's $4.7 billion in foreign aid to a communist or Marxist dominated nation. This was modified somewhat in order to allow surplus agricultural products to go to Poland and Yugoslavia. But the matter of financial aid stood firm.

This was even more encouraging in view of the Senate's usual pro-administration stand in legislation of this type. The amendment's author, conservative Democrat Frank Lausche of Ohio, declared in debate that any aid granted to a communist country "can never be in the interest of the security of the United States it can only be in the interest of the promulgation of international communism."

This is clear thinking. Tito, for example, has tried to play both ends against the middle in the East-West friction. Yet Yugoslavia votes "down the line" with the Soviet Union in the United Nations and stands ready to run to Moscow for re-orientation any time Khrushchev so directs.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk lamented the Senate action as most unfortunate. The administration takes the view that by assisting such nations as Poland and Yugoslavia, we would be acting to "wean" them away from domination by the Soviet Union.

In his statement, the Secretary of State said "adoption of the Lausche amendment will give the impression abroad that we are permanently writing off to Soviet domination the millions of people who still yearn for freedom."

This is confused thinking. We "wrote off to Soviet domination" all of eastern Europe before World War II ended. We declare that policy again every time such events as the Hungarian revolution and the Poznan riots take place. In other words, even when nations bordering Russia try to declare independence, we make it clear we won't help them keep it.

Yugoslavia and Poland are in no position to declare a double allegiance for Russia on the one hand and the United States on the other. They are Soviet satellites and no amount of U. S. aid can change that picture.

For this reason, Senator Lausche's statement could be expanded to cover many other reductions in foreign aid, not only to communist nations but to so-called "neutrals" as well. Such aid has seldom contributed to the interest and security of the United States. Too often it has been used in the interest of the promulgation of international communism.

Earlier this year, two examples of bureaucratic wire-crossing occurred which point up the question of "who knows where who goes" in our sprawling federal government.

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman at the National Conference on Land and People made this observation: "Some recent studies estimate that by 1980 when we expect our population to have grown to around 250 million people we will be able to produce the food and fiber for all domestic and international needs on about 50 million fewer acres than we have in production today."

Shortly afterward, the Assistant Secretary of the Interior told a Pueblo, Colorado, audience: "Realization of the 1980 needs will require crop yields 41 per cent greater and a net addition of 20 million acres of cropland. Year 2000 needs will require crop yields 75 per cent greater and the addition of 63 million acres of cropland."

From these statements at least two conclusions can be drawn. In the first place, one of the gentlemen must be wrong. In the second place, we would do well to look behind the matter of "public need" for more cropland as put forth by the official from the Department of the Interior. His claim could follow the thinking favoring more government dams—supposedly for irrigation—but in reality to establish more tax-exempt federal power projects.

Whatever the reason, the account shows one official calling for fewer acres under cultivation and another calling for more within the next 20 years.

This points up the futility of a planned economy put into effect over such a vast area as the United States.

A more personal account was told by a Monroe pilot who was mustered out of the military service with hundreds of flying hours to his credit. But somewhere between the Pentagon and the bureau handling civilian aviation, his records were mislaid, or otherwise confused. Washington gave him the benefit of the doubt. They doubted his side of the story altogether and ordered him to take flying lessons.

White House Appears Shunted From World Of Reality

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, — Inside the White House they live in a kind of intellectual seclusion. President Kennedy himself and his aides make comments to the press sometimes which reflect a regrettable lack of experience with the world of reality.

Thus, the other day the President made quite a fuss and canceled all the White House subscriptions to the New York "Herald Tribune" because the edition he got in Washington didn't carry a story about the investigation of the stockpiling of war materials which, in the administration's political mind, should be equated with the Billie Sol Estes case.

STOCKPILE

But the reason why the "Herald Tribune" didn't get its news article about the Senate hearings on the stockpile affair into a certain edition on a given day is far less important than what is revealed about the unfamiliarity of the folks in the White House offices with the way a newspaper operates.

For it is truly a miracle that any newspaper gets out its first edition — or its second or its third — on a regular schedule. Nobody gets out the equivalent of a 310-page book in a single night except a newspaper. Indeed, in a newspaper with 16 pages of news matter there are 100,000 words. Sometimes in the stream of copy a story gets mislaid or lost.

The typesetters have to do a fast job. They operate a machine called a linotype. It has a keyboard, and it's possible to make mistakes in setting up type just as it is in working a typewriter. But the mistakes on a typewritten sheet of paper can be marked out with a pencil, or a few words typed in to correct the error. In a newspaper column of lead type, a mistake of one character means resetting a whole line. If one word is omitted, a number of lines may have to be re-set.

Then somebody has to find the exact place to insert the corrected line or lines on the page. Sometimes, in haste, a wrong line is accidentally pulled out by the makeup man, and the result is that lines are duplicated or omitted. Incidentally, in making corrections, words have to be read backward — that's the main reason for so many errors. It's difficult for the human eye to master the technique of reading letters in reverse.

Now, many readers have doubtless become exasperated over the errors in print, as does this correspondent at times. One can't remember always just what one's father once called those who make such mistakes. But the fact remains that setting the type correctly is only one of a number of problems that face the newspaper's composing room after the reporters and editorial writers have turned in their copy, headlines have been written, and it is all ready to be put into type.

The editor may have charted carefully in advance just where each story should be placed. It doesn't matter sometimes how early a story got to the composing room. In the last minutes of makeup and transposition, something that was planned for a certain spot just doesn't fit in the alloted amount of space, and something else has to be quickly inserted that does fit. One can't be thinking of the sensitivities of White House folks in moments like these.

These are the facts of newspaper life, and they are just as vital as the technique by which steel is poured in the mills. For a newspaper is a combination of many things — a place for literary effort, let us say, a place for making photographs into engravings, a place where certain pages of news matter must be made up each day, notwithstanding the many shapes and sizes of the advertisements for which the advertisers pay good money, and a place where page forms must be made into stereotype cylinders for the rotary presses. Minutes count in this whole operation. There are mail trains to catch, as well as trucks to be loaded in time to catch these trains. There are newsdealers in other towns and cities who have to call for the papers and deliver them on time to the subscribers.

Many a morning the first editions of the New York "Herald Tribune" or the New York "Times" arrive too late for the breakfast table here. Something in the chain of communication and traffic breaks down. It's too expensive to send the papers by air when occasionally the trains are delayed or something else happens to interrupt the tight schedule.

MIRACLE

Basically, it is, indeed, a miracle that a newspaper gets out at all, that as many as three editions are handled in the evening hours, and that many of the stories which are originally prepared do finally get into the paper for the next morning.

This isn't something in which a change can be effected by canceling White House subscriptions, though this is a tactic which Mr. Khrushchev might enjoy. But the tragedy is not that one newspaper got a rap on the knuckles from the President of the United States. The real tragedy is that again it has been demonstrated how little the inner White House circle knows about the world of reality or the process by which the American people are privileged to enjoy a free press.

Attorney General Challenges Registration Dodgers

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Robert Kennedy has challenged a Communist scheme to avoid registration of a Party front with government authorities.

After lengthy hearings before the Subversive Activities Control Board, the Justice Department in 1955 had ordered the Jefferson School of Social Science to register as a Communist operation.

Government witnesses proved that the school's function was to "train students, almost all of whom are Party members or potential recruits, in the Party's programs, strategy and tactics . . . Under rigid Party control, it is utilized as the Communist Party's principal training ground for effective membership and leadership therein."

Ordered to register under the Internal Security Act of 1950, the Jefferson School simply shut its doors in December, 1956, after twelve years of existence.

In its place came the New York School of Marxist Studies. Attorney General Kennedy is now out to prove this is simply a new name for the Jefferson School.

He says that Herbert Aptheker, a wheelhorse in the old Jefferson School, is director of the School for Marxist Studies. Aptheker is a National Committee-member of the Communist Party and one of its chief theoreticians.

Teachers at the school include William Albertson and Betty Gannett, both members of the Party's National Committee. They were ordered by Kennedy to register as Communists under the Internal Security Act only last week.

Another teacher is Jesus Colon, WORKER columnist and veteran Party functionary. He lectures in the Spanish language to Party members whose English is less than perfect.

Editor of the WORKER is James Jackson, another lecturer at the Marxist School. He is also National Secretary of the Communist Party for Negro Affairs.

The Attorney General has ordered hearings to be held in New York for the purpose of proving that the School of Marxist Studies is simply a reconstituted Jefferson School. He wants it to register as a Communist front—seven years after the S.A.C.B. so ruled.

Wisconsin Sen. Bill Proxmire spots a $1 billion boondoggle in the Administration's massive defense budget. It is for a conventional-powered Forrestal-class aircraft carrier. Price tag on the carrier is anywhere from $280 million to $340 million.

Add to this the cost of supply and refueling ships, anti-aircraft artillery, and airplanes, and the figure jumps to $1 billion.

SITTING DUCK

The proposed carrier is almost as large as the U. S. Capitol, the length of three football fields. It would be a sitting duck for enemy attack and could be completely destroyed by one enemy torpedo.

The carrier, which would not be completed until 1966, would have a serious fuel problem. Extensive planning and coordination are required to supply it with fuel oil and aviation gas. Like the carriers themselves, these supply lines are highly vulnerable to non-nuclear attack, even in limited war situations.

Says Proxmire: "To buy a conventional aircraft carrier in an age of nuclear submarines, intercontinental rockets, supersonic airplanes, and sky-to-ground missiles, is to invest in obsolescence."

President Roosevelt signed a resolution authorizing a broad congressional inquiry into tax dodging. Republican Representative Hamilton Fish of New York commented the Roosevelt deductions for farm losses at Hyde Park should be investigated.

Hospital Built By Clocks

By JIM BISHOP

"Dear Jim: Someday you may get to a little town called St. Cloud, Florida. If you do, I wish you would stop to see Mrs. Manny Budinger. She has a story. Of course, everyone has a story to tell, but this one is typically yours. Years ago, she and her husband were engaged in welfare work in Chicago. One day an eye doctor told Mrs. B. that she had glaucoma.

"To some people, this is the end of the road. Sight fades swiftly or slowly, depending upon the amount of damage and the amount of care. The doctor advised the Budingers to take a rest in Florida. Lord knows how they picked a tiny town like St. Cloud, but they did. It was a sunny sleepy sort of place, and the couple liked it so well that they decided to live out their time there.

"Mrs. B. was shopping one morning when she saw a man lying in the gutter. He was stoned. Someone told her he was the town drunk. His name was Bill Silver. Somehow, she got him to his feet and, with the help of Mr. B., brought him to their little place. She straightened him out. Silver had no family, no friends, no money, no hope.

STAY SOBER

"The lady told him that he now had a home as long as he remained sober. He said he couldn't stay sober unless he had something to occupy his mind. Mrs. B. put him in the spare room and gave him a clock. 'It's broken,' she said. 'Fix it.' Bill Silver unnerved Mrs. Budinger by putting the clock in working order within 15 minutes.

"It was going to require effort to keep Bill busy. She found another busted alarm clock. Then a cuckoo clock. Then a grandfather's clock with chimes. Bill Silver kept going. So did the clocks. People from all over that area began to send clocks they didn't want. Silver repaired them and he also repaired an old barn on the property.

"In a short time, Mrs. B. had 400 clocks, all ticking as though they and Bill Silver and Mrs. B's eyes would go on forever. Most of them had to be wound daily. The old barn became a clock museum. Signs advertising the place went up on the highways. People stopped by to look at some strange and wonderful clocks, and some worthless ones too.

"The museum made no charge, but some people left a coin or two. Then Mrs. Budinger decided to build a small hospital with the money from the clock museum. It was an idiotic idea, except that St. Cloud had no hospital. After a number of years, the Budingers and Bill Silver realized that they had enough money to buy a piece of land. They bought it.

"They needed more clocks, more donations, although they never asked for anything. Mrs. B. added authentic antiques to the clock museum and the old barn became a tourist site. More years went by, and more work, and more donations came. Mentally, Mrs. B. built that hospital brick by brick.

"Well, as the fellow says, never underestimate the power of a woman. That hospital was actually built. I won't go over the number of years, the heartaches, the sacrifices, but the Budingers and their old friend Bill Silver finally made it.

"When it was finished, the townspeople walked through the corridors, looked into the neat empty rooms, stared at the big space where the operating room would be, and marveled that a combination of two strangers — a woman and a man with deep personal problems — could achieve such a great humanitarian thing designed to solve other people's problems.

"Silver, I guess, realized that the thing for which he had been placed on earth had been done. And properly done. He was now getting on in years and he was tired of all the clocks, the chimes, the tourists and, I guess, time itself. He sustained a heart attack. Unfortunately, the hospital was empty. There were no beds. No doctors.

"Bill Silver died. Some said he was the town bum. Some said he was a saint. The truth is that he was just a man who needed a goal. He found it. He made it, which is more than most of us can say. The Budingers buried him. The failing eyes of Mrs. B. were in twilight, and could not shed a tear. But she and Manny knew how good Bill had been.

STANDS ALONE

"As I say, some day you may get to St. Cloud, Florida. In fact, my reason for writing to you is to ask if you can find someone who will equip the hospital. It stands alone and empty and it cannot help the sick and the hurt, the young and the old, until it has beds and lights and doctors and nurses.

"Mrs. B. does not want to be enveloped by the long darkness until she can see this happen. So she is offering the clock museum, the hospital, the land, her home and all she owns to anyone who will equip the St. Cloud Hospital.

"I can't write the story. Everybody knows I write sports. You can. Who knows? Maybe someone will read the thing and decide to make an old dream come true.

"All the best, Jim.
Lou O'Neill."

Meet Regulations Face To Face

By MARTIN E. SEGAL

When you come face to face with Social Security regulations, you may fly off the handle. Before you do, there are some questions you ought to ask yourself:

Why was Social Security started, why does it pay certain benefits, why were regulations designed as they were?

The answers will give you some idea of why regulations are as they are.

For instance, the Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance program was set up to help people take care of themselves in the event they could no longer work because of age or disability.

If age or disability prevented them from working, it also followed that they would be unable to support their wives, children and dependent parents. So Social Security was designed to spread a blanket of protection over them.

However, as with anything else, rules had to be set up to define age, disability and relationship. These rules may sometimes seem unreasonable.

But what must be remembered is that they were drawn to cover 100 million people. It would be very unusual for a single set of rules to satisfy everyone, and there's no question that by having arbitrary rules, hardships will occur. But this would happen no matter where the line was drawn.

The law says, for example, that a wife isn't entitled to a wife's benefit until she reaches 62. Now some wives desperately need this money at 55 or 60, some don't need it until 65 or 70. No matter what age is settled on, some people will feel it is unjust. Yet the line has to be drawn somewhere if Social Security taxes are to be kept within bounds.

WAGES STOP

The same situation arises with disability benefits. They are paid to help the worker whose wages stop because of a permanently disabling illness or injury. But the rule regarding the wife's eligibility still holds. If she is not 62, she is not eligible for a wife's benefit, despite her husband's disability.

Children under 18 are eligible for benefits if their father receives benefits or dies. And the mother of children receiving benefits is entitled to a benefit. But many children are still in high school at 18, and some continue in school until they are well in their 20's. Still, a line must be drawn somewhere, so both children and mother (if she's under 62) lose benefits when the children reach 18.

We hope this information will help answer a question raised by Mrs. E. P. of El Cajon, Calif. Mrs. P. writes:

"Three years have elapsed since my husband died in Los Angeles. I was told at that time I was not eligible for his disability benefits. He became disabled in October, 1958 and died April 1959. He was 55. I am 55 now. He had been married for only nine months before his death. Could you please tell me why I wasn't entitled to the disability benefits?"

Mrs. P. is not eligible for her husband's disability benefit because she is not a disabled worker. Disability benefits go only to people unable to earn a living because of injury or disease—if they have earned sufficient Social Security credits.

Wives of Social Security beneficiaries are not entitled to benefits until they have been married for at least one year. So, Mrs. P. will not be entitled to a widow's benefits when she reaches 62. But if she worked long enough before getting married, or works from now until she is 62, she will be entitled to a benefit on her own account.

(Your question on Social Security probably is answered in Mr. Segal's new "Security for You" booklet which you can obtain by sending 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped, long envelope to SECURITY FOR YOU, GPO Box 1089, New York 1, N. Y.)

WASHINGTON SHORTS

ROASTING HOUR — The Harvard Hasty Pudding Theatricals put on their annual show here recently for a public audience and later repeated it at the White House. This was their lighthearted spoof of Harvardman John F. Kennedy's Peace Corps:

"We'll go anywhere
Loyal, true and frank
Send us anywhere
With lots of U.S. bank checks
Better make 'em blank checks
Patriots to the Corps."

Of this one on goings-on at the White House:

"No self - respecting family can without the woman run.
See how the House on Pennsylvania avenue's redone.
American from floors to doors,
It's furnished by Louis Catorze.
That's why we say, it's lady's day
Within the family way.
It's each sister, cousin, aunt who does in
The dozens of crumpet and tea votes
The family that stayed together
Gets paid together
In the shade of hallowed P. T. boats."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

THE HOUSEWIFE SYNDROME

Many tired housewives are self-critical and overly conscientious mothers and homemakers. They spend too much time on their job and strive too hard for perfection. All is well so long as everything goes smoothly but they become depressed and tired when the routine gets them down.

Other women are tired because of a physical disability such as obesity. Weariness aggravates the situation when the overweight person rests more and uses up less energy. She spends more time sleeping and stops frequently during the day to fortify herself with a snack.

The compulsive worker usually drives herself to carry out a rigid routine. Her work is "never done." She is thin because of hard work, has no interest in food, and in contrast to the obese woman, is a light sleeper. She also is tired and has reason to be so. This housewife depends upon a cup of coffee and a cigaret several times a day to break the monotony.

The fatigue syndrome often masquerades as something else. It may produce low back pain, headache, insomnia, depression, disinterest, and feelings of guilt. The appearance also suffers because of lassitude.

The fatigued housewife needs a complete physical examination, an evaluation of her diet, and a discussion relative to her daily routine. Better organization of the housework and the care of the children is helpful and so is a good balance between work and recreation. More attention and help from hubby also goes a long way. Psychic interviews can be useful in certain cases.

But these measures are difficult to sell even tho they are the answer to the problem. Most women prefer tonics such as liver injections, vitamins, or iron. Psychic energizers and tranquilizers also are used by those wanting quick relief.

The aspartates, a mixture of potassium and magnesium salts, are the latest remedy. Up to 87 per cent are reported to have increased energy and strength after using this product despite the fact none had a deficiency of these minerals.

GALL BLADDER AND SHINGLES

M. E. writes: I suffer terribly after eating but X-rays show no gall bladder disease. Can this be the cause of my shingles?

REPLY

No. Shingles is a viral infection of the nerve endings under the skin. The area that hurts is treated where the rash exists or existed. There are many causes of abdominal pain. Gall bladder distress is deep and is located under the ribs on the right side of the abdomen. Pain from shingles is on the surface.

MARBLE SKIN

M. H. writes: Can mottling of the skin of the calves be eliminated or reduced in a 25 year old woman?

REPLY

This type of mottling is difficult to correct but it can be masked with cosmetics or by wearing cotton hose. It is a circulatory disturbance — cutis marmorata (marble skin) or livido reticularis — and is helped by avoiding the cold and wearing warm clothes.

CHOLESTEROL IRRITATION

D.F. writes: Does cholesterol ever cause pneumonia?

REPLY

Yes — if you mean pneumonitis. Several chemicals and irritants do this but cholesterol pneumonitis is rare. The air sacs become filled with cholesterol laden scavenger cells. The condition is likely to be mistaken for lung cancer because the involved area is firm and resembles a tumor.

SEBORRHEIC DANDRUFF

B.C. writes: Can eating too many sweets cause dandruff?

REPLY

Not as a rule. Foods that aggravate acne may aggravate the oily type of dandruff.

Today's Health Hint—

A mother with a cold ought to wear a mask when attending a small infant.

U. S. MARSHALS continued hauling pacifists out of federal court in San Francisco a task they've been up against for the past several days. Here they bodily carry Thomas Sawyer following his appearance in federal court. Sawyer was one of 18 men arraigned before U. S. Commissioned Donald Constine on charges of obstructing a U. S. Marshal, an outgrowth of the pacifists picketing of the federal building protesting the arrest and conviction of three other pacifists. (AP Wirephoto) school with an enrollment of 500 or more granting the following diplomas: college preparatory, vocational preparatory and business preparatory;

"And finally, a physical fitness program in every elementary and secondary school in the state.

"I am an ardent segregationist and supporter of separate but equal educational opportunities. I will devote myself to the maintenance of this policy in our state."

Wilson pledges that if elected, "I will be accessible to you and will do my utmost for progress in over-all education."

Born in West Monroe, he graduated from Crosley elementary and West Monroe High schools, attended Louisiana Tech one year before service in the U.S. Marine Corps from February, 1943, to June, 1946.

He graduated from Louisiana State University in 1950 and was employed by the Ouachita Parish School board that year.

Wilson has taught at Selman Field elementary school, 1950-51; Millsaps Elementary from 1951-53, where he also coached and saw his teams win football and softball championships.

Since 1952, he has been health and physical education instructor at W.M.H.S. He has served as assistant football coach and head baseball coach. In 1955 his baseball team won the Northern District championship. He was selected as outstanding baseball coach in 1955 and 1956.

Wilson was granted sabbitical leave in 1956 and attended L.S.U. where he received his master of education degree in 1957, and returned to W.M.H.S. as physical education teacher and p.e. supervisor of student teacher for Northeast State College.

He holds membership in seven educational organizations: lifetime National Education Association; Louisiana Teachers Association; Ouachita Teachers Association; Classroom Teachers Association District Classroom Teachers; Phi Delta Kappa; Kappa Phi Kappa, past president L.S.U. 1949.

The candidate is a member of West Monroe's First Baptist Church, has been a West Monroe Lion for 11 years, and participates in other community activities.

He served as West Monroe's Recreational director for five years, and with Harold Hill founded the Little League baseball. He organized a winter basketball program during the past four years, and presently is serving a two-year term on the West Monroe Recreation Commission.

He received a certificate of merit from United Givers in 1960, and has worked on Community Chest drives, Salvation Army drives, and Crippled Childrens drives.

Three Charter Filings Listed

Three filings affecting businesses in northeast Louisiana have been received in the office of Wade O. Martin, Jr., secretary of state, it was learned today. The filings, part of a large list, were received during the period between May 30 and June 5.

All three were domestic charters.

They were for Concordia Parish Rest Home, Inc., 100 First Street, Ferriday, rest home, with a capital of $50,000; Nichols Wrecking Company, Inc., U. S. Highway 80 East, Monroe, wrecking, $50,000 capital; and the Satellite Saddle Club, Inc., 603 Bernhardt Bldg., Monroe, stable and riding facilities, $10,000.

The alarm room, where all emergency calls come in, received a "hurry up' message from a person on the north side of Monroe. The family, living on Pargoud Boulevard, was outside the home.

The firemen were asked to help them get into their home; they had locked themselves out!

Quartet Sings

The Oak Ridge Quartet from Nashville, Tennessee will present a concert in the Ouachita Parish High School Auditorium on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

This concert is sponsored by the Ouachita Band Boosters Club, and all proceeds will go into the uniform fund. Advance tickets may be purchased at Farmers Feed & Seed, 117 Cotton, West Monroe and Acme Cleaners and Laundry, 501 North 3rd in Monroe. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Republicans Seek Opelousas Posts

OPELOUSAS, La. (UPI) — For the first time since Reconstruction Days, Republicans will vie with Democrats in a municipal election in Opelousas.

Republicans are challenging four Democrats, including three incumbents, for city council seats in Tuesday's general election.

The election pits Democrat Wilfred Cortez against Republican John Dowling for alderman-at-large. Incumbent ward 2 councilman Theo Pitre will face Republican Robert Charles Lacombe. In ward 3, incumbent Democrat Frank Trosclair meets Republican Mrs. Edward Thistlewaite and in ward 4, incumbent Frank Pepitone will meet Republican John Dezauche.

13 Persons Killed

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A commuter train and a school bus collided at a city crossing in dense fog today. First unofficial reports said 13 were killed and many others injured. The casualty estimates were made by the news agency Telpress.

DAVIS

and other institutions or the situation could have worsened."

Reily, in effect, said in a letter to lawmakers Sunday night that he was quoted out of text. He issued a copy of his speech, which did not include the remarks.

He admitted, however, that he did pause at one point during the speech and made a statement that was not in the prepared talk.

Blaming the New Orleans States-Item for misquoting him, Reily said in his letter to the legislature:

"There are many among you who have had occasion to issue public statements and have been surprised, chagrined, and perhaps disillusioned to read the printed account of your statement and have been hard - pressed to reconcile what was said with what was reported as having been said."

Referring to the part of his talk that was made out of text, Reily said, "I paused to emphasize to the bankers present that they would recall the assurances that the responsible officials of state government had given them to justify their financing local school boards."

Bernard, speaking to the House as the session opened, said he knew the administration floor leaders would oppose his resolution.

"I asked them to think about the people back home," he said. "They want to know what's going on in this state."

His resolution asks Reily to appear before the legislature and explain his remarks.

"What is the primary subject of your resolution?" Lebreton asked before he questioned Bernard's sincerity.

"To find out what's been hidden six months or better from the state?" Barnjrd replied.

Triche, however, quoted from budget statements dating back to 1954, claiming that the state has operated on a deficit basis since then.

Louisiana had a $73 million deficit this year, preceeded by a $10 million deficit after Davis' first year in office. He inherited a surplus from the Earl K. Long administration when he first went in.

"This resolution is the most ridiculous I've ever seen," Triche said. "The legislature is trying to make a scapegoat out of a sincere public official."

Rep. Sidney Sylvester, an Opelousas lawmaker who has been one of the few critics of the Davis administration in the current session, said he felt Reily should be given an opportunity to speak to the legislature to clear his own name.

"Today he is an indicted man," Sylvester said.

Rep. Wellbon Jack, a Shreveport solon who said he was a personal friend of Reily, said, "If I was his attorney, I would tell him to come before this body and speak. If Mr. Jim Reily told me he wasn't hiding anything, I would believe him. If this resolution is tabled, it will hurt him."

Rep. Lawrence Gibbs and Rep. Mike John Jr. of Monroe voted to suspend the rules to vote on Bernard's resolution, a move that was opposed by the administration.

Presidential Race In Peru Confusing

LIME, Peru (AP)—Three leading candidates in Peru's presidential race were closely bunched today in partial, unofficial returns.

Early indications were that the new Congress might have to elect the nation's chief executive from the leading trio of contenders. None appeared headed for the required 34 per cent of the valid votes.

An early trend favoring former dictator Manuel A. Odria seemed checked in post-midnight tabulations by newspapers and radio and television stations.

Official returns are not expected before June 18, after the national electoral jury completes a scrutiny of the ballots.

Since there are hardly any nonpartisan factions in the country, the election picture in its early stages was one of confusion.

The newest trend bunched Odria with Fernando Belaunde Terry of the leftist Popular Action party and Victor Raul Haya de la Torre of the left-center APRA party. The four other presidential candidates were clearly out of the running.

The newspaper La Prensa, which gave some backing to Haya de la Torre, reported a change in an early trend favoring Odria. It reported results from 1,617 of the nations more than 10,000 voting districts yielded 74,429 votes for Haya, 68,666 for Odria and 67,910 for Belaunde. The total was roughly 12 per cent of an anticipated total vote of about 1.7 million.

The newspaper El Comercio said its tabulations favored Odria with Belaunde and Haya behind in that order. El Comercio backed Odria and violently opposed Haya.

Harry Goldman Rites Pending

WATERPROOF (Special) — Funeral services for Harry T. Goldman Sr., father of Mrs. E. D. Shaw Jr. of Monroe, were pending today. Mr. Goldman, a planter, died Sunday in a Natchez hospital. He was injured in a fall last week.

Other survivors are his widow, Mrs. Lillian McDowell Goldman, Waterproof; a son Harry Goldman Jr., Waterproof; a brother, Brisco Goldman, Bay St. Louis, Miss., and five grandchildren.

Lake Charles Girl Heads LSU Grads

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Louisiana State University graduated some 800 students in its 101st annual commencement Saturday.

Nancy Janet Revelle, Lake Charles, headed the 1962 graduating class. She was the seventh student in LSU's history to graduate with a perfect A average.

Other students besides Miss Revelle to graduate magna cum laude were Ann Estelle Farrier, Baton Rouge; Elinor Charles O'Brien, Baton Rouge; Ruth Leaurin, Dyersburg, Tenn.; Glenn Hartsell, Haynesville; Gaye Carroll, Shreveport; Helen Jane Redd, Baton Rouge; and Lois Carolyn Reaves, Gainesville, Fla.

Dr. George Humphrey, president of the University of Wyoming, delivered the commencement address, and Rabbi Robert I. Kahn of Houston, Tex., gave the baccalaureate sermon.

Widow Kills Son By Mistake

SARONNO, Italy (AP)—Lidow Domenica Zandrini took a rifle and hid behind the chicken pen Sunday night to try to catch thieves she suspected of stealing her poultry.

A little after midnight she was startled to see a figure appear before her in the darkness. She fired and killed her eldest son, Silvano, 15.

He had come to take a turn on watch so his mother could rest.

Miller's Air Conditioning Moves To New Location

Miller's Air Conditioning, formerly located at 205 Oakland street, West Monroe, has moved to a new location.

Jewel Miller, owner, says of the new offices at 711 North 11th street, West Monroe — 'It's a better location and gives a better opportunity to serve our customers with York Air Conditioning.'

Miller further adds that now is a good time to add central cooling to your heating system. And if you plan to build, be sure and get Miller's proposal on the most important part of your home — the York heating and air conditioning system.

Don't let the summer heat get you down. Health-wise, and comfort-wise, you can't beat air conditioning for home or office.

Call Jewel Miller at FA 5-3211 and ask about York air conditioning. Whatever the size of your home or office, York air conditioning can make your life pleasanter and more comfortable the hot summer days ahead.

'Pete' Baird Of 'Picayunes' Fame Succumbs

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The man who caused many a smile and smirk with his Will Rogers-like barbs called "Picayunes" is dead.

James Russell "Pete" Baird, as well known for his sports writing as for his humorous front - page editorial comments, died at his New Orleans home Sunday night at the age of 60.

Baird was a native of Nashville, Tenn., and graduated from the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn.

He joined the staff of the Times-Picayune 37 years ago as a police reporter, but soon moved to the sports desk where he covered some of the biggest sports stories during his career. He was especially known for his coverage of boxing, and wrote a now-and-then boxing column called "Hooks and Jabs."

But Baird was probably best known to the Louisiana public for his "Picayunes", carried daily on the front page of the Times-Picayune. One such, the final of three in this morning's early edition:

"With many doctors now, the Kennedy oath is much stronger than the oath of Hippocrates."

Funeral services are as yet incomplete.

Ouachita Electric Has Many Items In Motor Field

At Ouachita Electric Service, 212 Haynes St., in West Monroe you will find a wide and varied stock of items related to the Electric Motor field and of course both new and rebuilt motors. Lee says, "I believe a product is only as good as the service that backs it, and that my first concern is to give my customers a quality service."

In the Flint & Walling line of both air-conditioning and well pump systems you will find the quality product you want. Let Ouachita Electric worry about the service. They have the Equipment, Parts and Personnel to talke care of it. Related to pumps, you will find a most complete line on seals, also pressure switches, pressure guages, and air volume controlls for all makes of pumps.

Through the years Lee realized the public is sometimes unaware that items are bought without a manufacturing guarantee. He urges you to be sure of the warranty period and conditions under which a product is guaranteed. Of most importance is where the warranty repair station is located. Out-of-town or long distance could be expensive in freight or postage.

In addition to the number of motors Ouachita Electric services in and out of warranty, they are authorized repair station and parts distributor for-skill—Black & Decker and Stanley Power Tools. Call FA 3-2525 for parts and service you might need, or visit their shop. Hayne St. is four blocks west from the end of the new bridge and 212 Haynes is about ½ block left from Cypress.

Woman Invades Sacred Sanctum

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sacred sanctum has been breached—the press box at Chavez Ravine was invaded for the first time by a female guest.

Since the invader was Juliet Prowse, nobody complained. Sportswriters caught a wink of mink and turned to see the dancer and Eddie Fisher.

They were invited in by columnist Walter Winchell during Sunday's doubleheader between the Kansas City Athletics and the Los Angeles Angels.

Miss Prowse prowled through, followed by the scent of perfume and every eye, then returned with Fisher to their box seats.

Exchange Rate To Remain Same

OTTAWA (AP) — Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming said Sunday night Canada will not consider any change from the present Canadian dollar exchange rate of 92½ cents to the U.S. dollar.

Fleming said in a statement: "We are determined to maintain the 92½-cent rate against pressures of any sort."

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton was quoted by newsmen, Friday as saying that he supports a further devaluation of the dollar exchange rate to 90 cents. He said the 92½-cent rate, established May 3, was in effect a compromise among Cabinet members and asserted the 90-cent level is "a natural peg which is defensible with our negative trade balance."

LUTHER'S
WHEEL ALIGNMENT SERVICE
106 OLIVE ST.

Luther Pioneered Wheel Alignment In Twin Cities

When J. L. Luther, Sr., first put up his business shingle in Monroe back in 1925, Luther's Garage catered to general auto repairs. In the early 1930's with the introduction of more high speed automobiles with sensitive wheel suspension systems, Luther recognized the need for specialized maintenance of wheel systems and brakes. He purchased from the Bear Manufacturing Company the necessary equipment to perform wheel alignment, balancing, and steering maintenance. Since then, except for a short period during World War II, Luther's has continuously offered a high quality wheel alignment and brake service for passenger cars and light trucks.

J. L. Luther, Jr., who bought the business from his retiring father in 1960, first learned the trade in 1939 when he was employed by his father for 2 years as a trainee sponsored by the Ouachita Parish High School vocational training program. Upon graduation from high school in 1941, J. L. joined the Army where he served as a bomber and transport pilot and aircraft maintenance officer until 1950. Since then, J. L. has been employed at Luther's continuously as a mechanic and part time manager.

Of more practical interest to modern motorists is the fact that Luther's Wheel Alignment Service at 106 Olive street in Monroe constantly buys new equipment and tools to serve the needs of the modern automobile. They can offer you quick, courteous, and economical service on your automobile's front end, wheels, and brakes. All work is guaranteed and Luther's will inspect your car free of charge and furnish you an accurate estimate of work needed. Luther's shop hours are from 7:30 till 5:30 weekdays and until 1:00 on Saturday afternoon. The phone number is FA 2-3880.

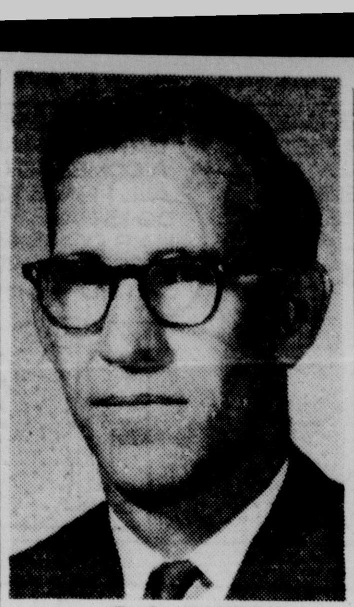
C. L. Pankey In Ward Five Board Race



C. L. PANKEY

Charles L. Pankey, 42, a lifelong resident of West Monroe and Olin Mathieson paper mill employe for the past 25 years, has qualified for the July 28 Democratic Primary election as a ward five Ouachita Parish School Board candidate.

Pankey resides at 307 Browning St. with his wife and two daughters. His daughters attend Northeast Louisiana State College. He is a member of the First Baptist Church.

During the past three years he has served as a member and president of Frostcraft Employe's United Fund. He has also served on the Executive Board of the United Givers Fund for Ouachita Parish.

In his announcement statement, Pankey said:

"You parents and future parents have in the past few years had the importance of an education so impressed upon your minds through the mass media of communication that it has become a matter of fact, an off-handed subject.

"The attitude is that every son and daughter will have a college education no matter how many corners have to be cut to get them there. My point is — once they are there, will they have the background, history, math, science, languages — to keep up with the students from more progress and forward looking educational systems?

"Will they have the fundamental building blocks on which to build future cities that will be a credit to our community. Another goal we should strive for, is the ability to look into the future and plan for the increasing population — while the buildings are still in the blueprint stage, not 5-10 years later, when the overcrowded conditions call for doubling up classes and overloading teachers.

"Not only this, but physical fitness is another point upon which more stress should be put in our parish schools. We should always keep striving for a better athletic program."

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

V. J. Pleasant Is Candidate For Election

Insurance underwriter Vern J. Pleasant Sr. of 1308 Warren Drive, West Monroe, has qualified as a ward five Ouachita Parish School Board candidate for the July 28 Democratic primary election.

Pleasant was born in Jeff Davis Parish, graduated from Lake Arthur High School and received a B. S. degree from the University of Southwestern Louisiana at Lafayette, after which he served with the Army Air Corps in North Africa and Europe during World War II.

He and his wife, the former Irene Whitman, have two children. Joe is a junior at Northeast State College and Reggie a junior at West Monroe High School.

He is employed by Lamar Life Insurance Co. of Jackson, Miss. He is a charter member of Highland Baptist Church, where he is a deacon and Sunday school teacher, the West Monroe Masonic lodge No. 419, the West Monroe Royal Arch Chapter, Monroe Council No. 8, West Monroe Lions Club, West Monroe Quarterback Club and the High Twelve Club.

His statement of announcement said:

"As a candidate from Ward Five for the election of the Ouachita Parish School Board I recognize this office to be one of sacred public trust and a responsibility I feel I owe to our community and to you and our children, not for personal gain, but with a genuine desire to serve with God's help. As a candidate I believe in:

"1. Keeping the welfare and education of our children first and foremost.

"2. A sound financial approach to the operation of our schools.

"3. Adequate pay for our school service personnel as well as our fine teachers.

"4. Segregation with separate, but equal, facilities for both races.

"I have no commitments to any group or faction and will be guided by my conscience and the will of the people of ward five if you see fit to elect me."

ADCOCK LOSES FIGHT

Senate Approves 2-Year Auto Tags

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) —Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe charged Sunday night that a bill to issue automobile license plates on a two-year basis would produce revenue that the present administration could spend before going out of office.

But the Senate passed the bill, 25-10.

"I believe the most important thing that the bill does is provide funds that the present administration can get and spend before we go out of office," Adcock said.

"It would be budgeted," replied Sen. Grady Stewart, co-sponsor, of Albany.

"You haven't been watching us," Adcock said. "We've been spending it whether it's budgeted or not."

"You're not against something that would save us $300,000?" Sen. Wendel Harris asked Adcock.

"I'm not convinced it would," Adcock said.

The bill, which will become effective in 1964, will change the state's system of issuing auto plates — from a year basis with a $3 fee to a two-year basis with a $6 fee.

"This raises the auto license to $6 as far as the people back home are concerned," Adcock said.

"The people also are going to be thinking about going up there and standing in line to get their plates," added Sen. W. T. Carpenter of Bastrop.

B. R. Patton of Farmerville and Sen. Speedy O. Long of Jena voted against the bill.

Senators Pass Water District Bill Unopposed

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) — A bill creating a water district for the Bayou Bartholomew area at Sterlington passed the Senate, 35-0, Sunday night.

Sponsored jointly by the Ouachita-Morehouse delegation, the bill creates a water district, which will be governed by a six-man board, so that pump facilities can be constructed to move water from Bartholomew into Dead Bayou and Bayou DeSiard.

"Since the city of Monroe gets its water from Bayou DeSiard, this is an awfully important step for the welfare of our area," commented Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe.

"It is also significant for Sterlington in that it will ultimately lead to having more water in Dead Bayou," Adcock said.

Bartholomew which flows out of Arkansas through Morehouse and Ouachita before emptying into the Ouachita river at Sterlington, plays a significant role in the economy of Morehouse Parish.

International Paper Co. taps the bayou for water.

But the bill provides that the water district and its projects will be governed by a six man board—three members from each of Morehouse and Ouachita.

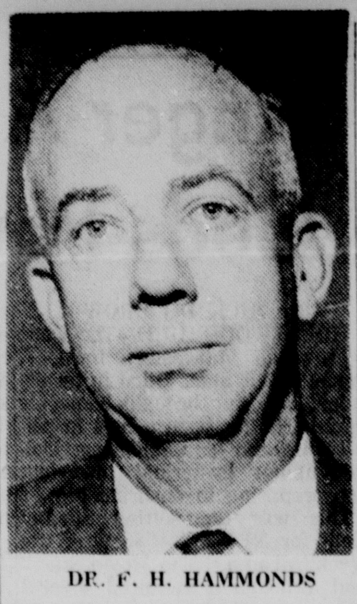
Citizens Council Enlists Professor As Consultant

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Citizens Council of America has named Dr. Medford Evans, former college professor, editor and government official, as a consultant.

Dr. Evans resigned in 1952 as chief of training for the Atomic Energy Commision to become a critic of federal policies. He wrote "the Secret War for the A-Bomb."

Dr. Evans taught English and history in several Southern colleges for several years.

He edited the Facts Forum and News, wrote a column for the Shreveport, La., Journal entitled "The South: Soviet Target" and contributed to the National Review, Human Events, Freeman, American Opinion and the Citizen.



DR. F. H. HAMMONDS

Hammonds Is Candidate For Board

Monroe physician Dr. F. H. Hammonds of 323 Pargoud Dr. has qualified as a ward three Ouachita Parish School Board candidate for the July 28 Democratic Primary election.

A native of Monroe, he attended Ouachita High School and Northeast Center. He earned an LSU B. S., and his M. D. from LSU medical school in New Orleans.

Dr. Hammonds spent two years overseas in the Army during World War II and opened his practice here in 1948.

His statement of announcement said in full:

"I have lived in ward three all of my life. My elementary and high school education was received in the Ouachita Parish school system. I also attended the local college before entering medical school; consequently, I feel qualified to recognize the needs and requirements of our students.

"I am vitally interested in helping to provide the best education possible for our children. After years of talking about our educational problems, I have decided the best way to do something constructive is to serve on the school board.

"The education of our children is the responsibility of all us, therefore it is the duty of each of us to elect competent school board officials who are sincerely interested in education."

PAR TIME 21 MIN.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is Dina Merrill, society beauty and movie star.)

One of the most surprising aspects of acting today is that so many of the aspirants do not expect to prepare themselves for it in a serious fashion. If a person were planning a career as a lawyer, an opera singer, or a scientist, he (or she) would naturally expect a foundation of study. Yet the letters I receive very often ask, "What studios should I go to? Which agent should I choose? What producer might have a part for me?"

That's putting the cart before the horse. It just doesn't happen that way except for the one-in-a-million beautiful girl who was discovered having a soda at the drugstore. The majority of known names have prepared themselves in advance, and achieved their status because of their training and ability. Good actors are serious about their work.

Studying, of course, is the key. But there are other factors that make the difference between success and failure. There's the question of talent, and how to know whether one has it.

I believe that everyone has talent in one field or another — some kind of work he cares about very much. With me, it's acting. It is, as Milton wrote: "That one talent which is death to hide," and every one of us has it in some form. Since I first attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts I have received more and more joy from my work, as I sense improvement and the sharpening of any natural abilities.

I've been asked what happens to the young people who want more than anything to act, but just simply don't have that particular talent. My answer to this is very simple: if they are in the wrong profession, they won't last very long. They just won't get work, and there will come a day when they will have to look elsewhere in themselves to find the solution. Perhaps they could find a very real satisfaction in amateur theatrical groups, or working with children's drama groups, or in other areas of the theatre, without having to knock forever on doors that can't be opened.

At the risk of being repetitious I can only say: if one wants to learn about something, study. When the subject is acting, there are no limits to what one can learn about yourself, about other people, about the stage itself, and playwrights and directors and communication on every level. This list is infinite. Start learning as young as you can and never, never stop.

I prepared for my profession before I tried to work at it, and gaining a foothold did not come easily. It never does. That's part of what makes it worthwhile, the standards are high and nobody lets you in unless you qualify.

Every good actor and actress I know is studying all the time, going to classes whenever possible. There is no leveling-off point when one can relax and say, "I made it." The material you have to work with is yourself, and what you can do now is not what you could do 10 years ago or will be able to do in the future. All of us expect to grow older, and there will come a time when ingenue parts and even leading lady roles are no longer suitable. Preparing for this challenge ahead of time means getting out of yourself, into "character" parts, and this can be exciting work, indeed. Who wants to stay the same forever?

Most of us have areas in our work that we haven't exploited and are therefore afraid of. I had two: Shakespeare, which has awed me since childhood with the grandeur of great poetry; and improvisations, which I'd heard about but never done. I've been studying recently with Sanford Meisner, and improvisations make up a good deal of the classwork. The first time I had to stand up in class and improvise a scene I was terrified. I was sure my mind would go blank and my knees would knock out loud. But the class was made up of other actors who knew what I was going through, and Sandy was incredibly helpful, and the feeling of satisfaction I received that day was a great one, even though my impromptu performance left a lot to be desired. I kept working at it, and the fears I had of this kind of acting ("Dina, now you are a convict's wife visiting him in jail. He doesn't want to see you. Get up and do it!") gave way to the pleasures of a skill well-learned. To face up to Shakespeare I enrolled with Jack Manning's Shakespeare Workshop and performed in two different productions of the Helen Hayes Equity Group. I now feel I've mades a beginning in that kind of work, and much of the fear has left me.

These are just two examples. There are others, of course. Learning, for instance, who is boss. (It's the director!) I've watched actors I've worked with struggle to find a key to the characters they are portraying, only to have the director say one word which suddenly brings the whole thing into focus. It's amazing how many novices in the theatre feel that they can interpret a role without help from anyone. It's an easy rule to start with, and it never changes: the director is the boss, and if he is good he can bring out the best in an actor every time. You may find amazing things happening to yourself when a good director taps your talent.

I used the word "suddenly" just now. Nothing really happens suddenly but it seems that way when you work and work and work and it just isn't right — then with the right word it all falls beautifully into place. But it's the work that goes into it that makes the "sudden" magic possible.

There are roles that I am looking forward to playing in the years to come. With enough time, effort, preparation and study, almost anything is possible.

Anger At False Gods Powerful

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The scene is a small Midwestern town. A young movie star, killed in an accident, is being brought home for burial. He has been a heel in private life, but his unknowing, idol-worshiping, hysterical townsfolk are preparing to enshrine him.

This was the setting Sunday night for NBC-TV's "Show of the Week" drama, "The Movie Star." And although it ventured several times into unfortunate melodrama, it had the powerful virtue of uncompromising anger over the tribute paid to false gods and their cheapening values.

There were the usual characters for these occasional, welcome exposures of contemptible celebrities:

The press agent (Dane Clark), who finally rebels at the circus-like atmosphere and blanket of glorifying falsehoods; the vicious columnist (Nancy Marchand), who had an extra-curricular interest in the dead hero and wants his widow to make a career of maintaining his fame; and the widow herself (Kathleen Widdoes), who wants to be kind to her husband's family and friends but finally realizes that half-truths are simply lies.

ACCUSES PUBLIC

In addition to these stock characters, however, the teleplay—by setting its action out of Hollywood—neatly achieved its additional intent of also accusing the public for defying such unworthies and then participating in such ghastly events as the funeral.

This writer was assigned to cover the carnival-like funeral of Tyrone Power in 1958, and can testify that the extraordinary tastelessness and revulsion depicted in Sunday night's drama were not exaggerated.

Robert J. Crean adapted the story from an original teleplay by William Bast, which was presented on television in England several years ago—and the lines frequently sizzled:

Press agent to distraught widow before the funeral: "Just pretend it's another premiere." Mother of the dead hero: "He got to be a movie star, so we've all got to be very proud." Press agent to teen-agers: "Silly creeps, with your autographs." Teen-aged girl: "A lot of us got together and cried."

HOLLYWOOD-TYPE THEATRICS

It's too bad that the play, which could have been completely devastating with a little more care, reverted to over-emphasis of the obvious—ironically, by using Hollywood - type theatrics. For example, too much was made of the press agent's love for the widow. It detracted from the main points.

In addition, there was an anticlimactic scene in which the hero's sister-in-law reveals to the funeral crowd that he had an affair with her, which was obvious and smacked of cheap drama; and an ill-advised speech by the widow telling the crowd her husband was a false hero. Both points could have been made powerfully with more restraint.

Miss Marchand was excellent and dominant as the columnist. And, in a chilling little scene, Arthur Pompeii was tops as a youth who idolized the star, looks and sounds like him, and is mobbed and stripped by admirers who think their hero has returned. "Let me go," he screams.

MY ANSWER

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: I worry all the time. I have prayed about it, read books on it, talked to a psychiatrist and done everything I know to do. But I just don't seem to be able to overcome this dreadful habit of worrying. I know I am a Christian but why is it that I have no lasting peace of mind? C.M.F.

ANSWER: I am glad that you label worry a habit! I have known people who had real cause for worry who refused to worry, and I have known people like you who have no particular reason for worrying, who do it in spite of themselves.

Jesus indicated that we could control the matter of worry. He said, "LET NOT your heart be troubled." This phrase indicates that worry can be controlled. What is the antidote for worry? Trust! You see, worry is caused by the feeling that you are personally responsible for the misfortune, the bad breaks, the distress that surrounds you — and this results in frustration, and added worry. When this principle is compounded, the anxiety-toll mounts, and worry is again magnified.

A friend asked me once when I was sick how I felt and I answered: "Pretty good under the circumstances." He said, "What are you doing under your circumstances — why not get on top of them?" this is what you need to do. How? "Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in Him, and he shall bring it to pass." God has promised to share life's load with us, so when you begin to "cast your care on Him," then your problem of worry will be solved.

FRANKLIN PARISH

Farmers Given Fish For Ponds

Large mouth bass fingerling were recently delivered to farmers of Franklin Parish cooperating with the Northeast Soil Conservation District. Among the farmers who received fish for ponds were: C. O. Bennett, Ray Garner, and Sherman Phillips for the La. Experiment Station of Winnsboro.

Ponds are a valuable asset and have many uses. During the past quarter century farmers and ranchers have built nearly a million ponds as part of their soil and water conservation plans. The many purposes that a farm pond may serve are to provide water for livestock, irrigation or fire protection. They can also, in many cases, be a very satisfactory source of recreation providing fishing, boating, and swimming.

The owner of a farm pond should be aware of the danger involved. Many lives are lost each year from drowning because certain safety precautions were not observed. The farm pond can be a source of joy as well as profit, but only if it is safe.

Some safety precautions that should be observed are: (1) mark the safe swimming areas, (2) place life - saving devices such as ring buoys, ropes, or long poles at swimming areas; (3) post safety instructions for boating or swimming; (4) never swim alone; (5) use boats that will float if swamped or capsized; (6) stay our of farm ponds during storms; (7) recognize that farm ponds are hazards to small children.

A publication, "Make Your Farm Pond Safe" is available at the local Soil Conservation Service office.

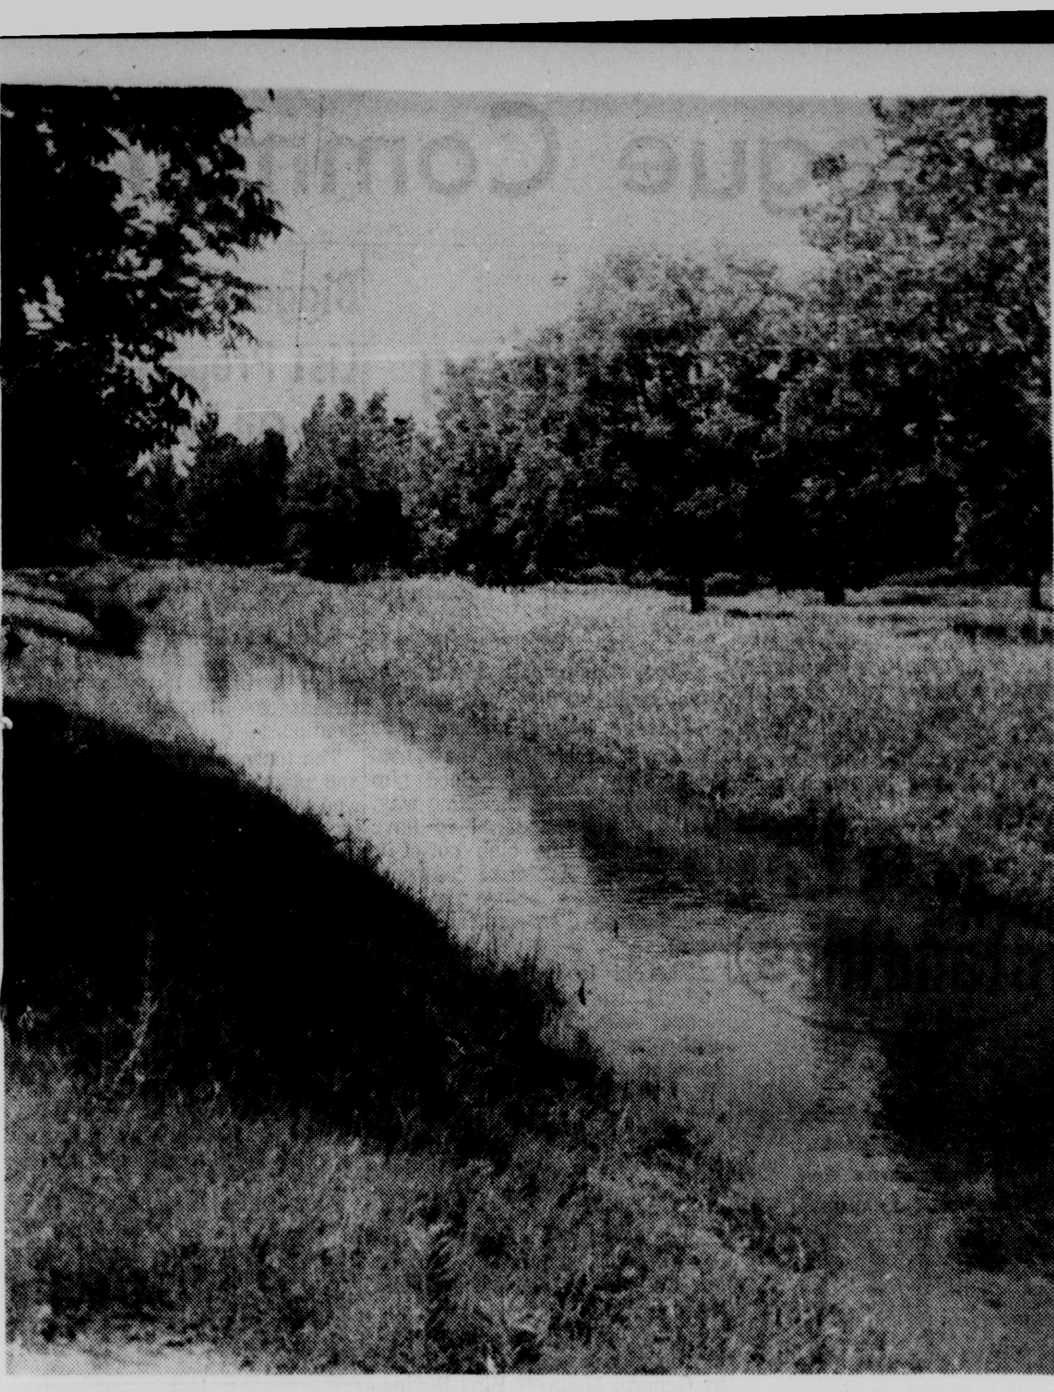
Dragline ditches planned by the Soil Conservation Service on the property of Mrs. Anne Moore near Winnsboro on the courthouse road have been completed. This work was done with Northeast Soil Conservation District owned dragline operated by C. L. Dupree.

Surveys have been made for land leveling on the farm of M. F. Brown of Winnsboro. Mr. Brown has also installed additional field drainage to remove excess water from cropland.

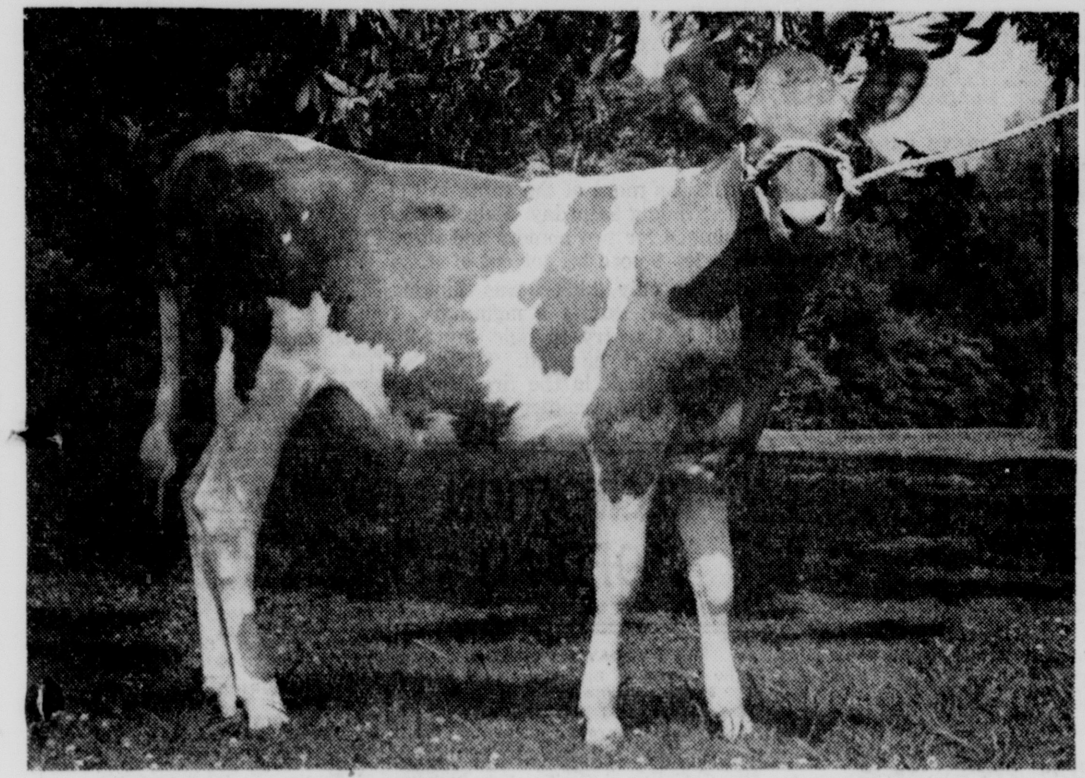
Arvel Ingram of Liddiville community is installing additional conservation practices. Conservation work on the Ingram farm includes: drainage ditches, pipe drop structures, farm ponds, liming and establishing pasture land. The Agricultural Conservation Program assists farmers in carrying out conservation practices by paying a portion of the cost.

Lloyd Peoples of Winnsboro, formerly employed by the Franklin Parish Police Jury, is now working with the Northeast Soil Conservation District as an engineering aid.

Virgil Beall of Crowville, due to expanded farming operations, has found it necessary and devote full time to farming.



THIS SUPPLY ditch channels water to a hill land orchard pasture when dry weather conditions prevail. The irrigation system is known as a contour border type. (Farm Front Photo)



SOME AREA 4-H Club members are acquiring calves about the size of this Guernsey for grooming for fall livestock shows, and expositions the following spring. Breeds of animals in the projects range through several dairy and beef types.

Advice Given On Halting Of Mosquito

Many places around farms provide breeding sites for mosquitoes during the summer months.

E. A. Cancienne, assistant entomologist with Louisiana State University Cooperative Extension Service, said unless some effort is exerted to discourage these annoying pests, they will be house guests all summer.

The mosquitoes most commonly infesting homes and gardens, breed in standing water such as might be found in stagnant pools, old tin cans, old tires, sewers, rain barrels and other such things.

BREEDING AREAS

He said these breeding areas are as common in the urban communities as they are in the rural sections.

The first step suggested in the battle against the blood sucking insects is to eliminate their breeding places. Low ares should be drained, discarded objects which contain water should be eliminated. Low areas where water stands for long periods of time should be drained if possible.

Water areas that can not be drained may be treated with a thin film of kerosene or a similar type oil over the surace. Applications should be made every 10 days during the summer, said Cancienne.

Care should be taken to prevent spray from contaminating livestock pastures or fish ponds, he said.

RESIDUAL

He suggested using an insecticide that will give as long a residual effect as possible so one application will be effective for several days. The spray may contain two level tablespoons of either 50 per cent DDT or 25 per cent lindane, or one level tablespoon of 50 per cent dieldrin in one gallon of water. This should be applied every week to all possible hiding places.

Inside the home, or other buildings which may be closed tightly, mosquitoes may be killed with any of the household type sprays or aerosol bombs.

The most effective sprays of this type contain three per cent methoxychlor, three to five per cent DDT or two per cent malathion plus pyrethrin, said Cancienne.

He suggested that best results in mosquito control can be gained through community efforts, since the pests are sometimes transported by wind currents from one area to another.

Thunderstorm Season Can Be 'Dangerous'

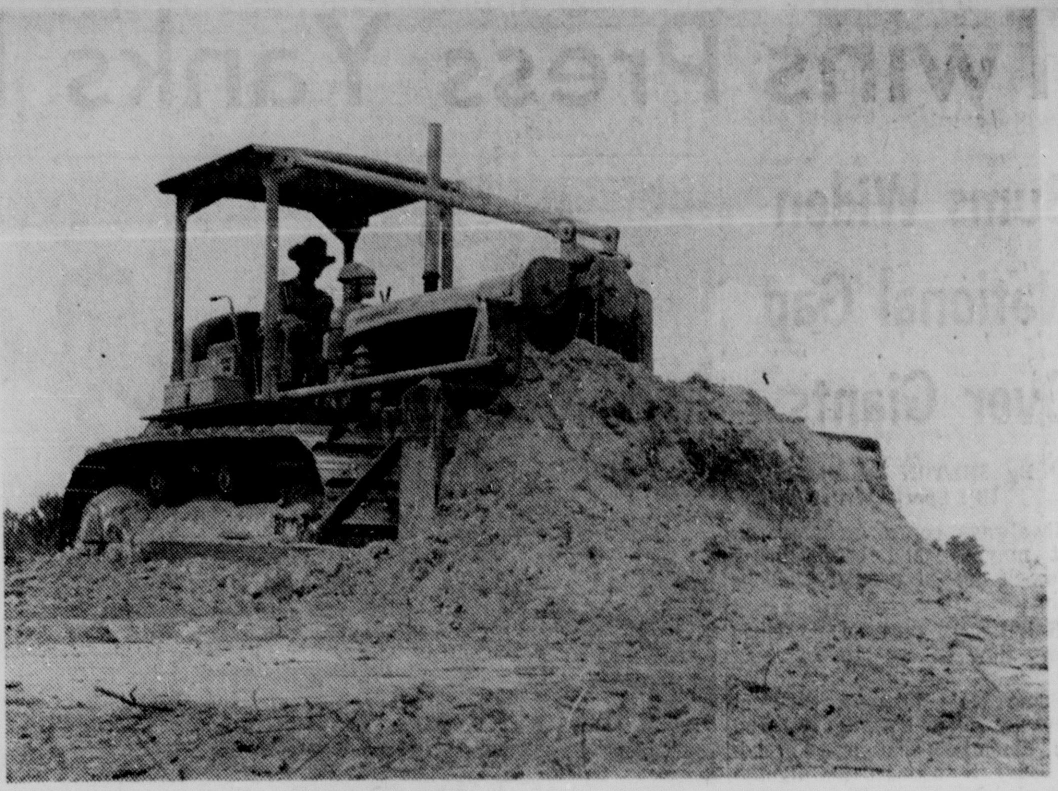
The summer thunderstorm season is on the way. Safety experts with the LSU cooperative extension service issue their annual reminders that while lightning can be dangerous, the likelihood of property damage or personal injury by lightning can be reduced greatly by a few simple precautions.

Here are some lightning facts to remember:

Lightning tends to strike the highest object in any area where a static charge has built up. That high object might be a farmer on a tractor in the middle of a field — or it might be the solitary tree under which the farmer has taken shelter. Anyone caught in the open in a severe storm can reduce the danger simply by lying down, preferably in a ditch or ravine.

The safest places to be in a thunderstorm are in a steel frame building, a building protected by lightning rods, or an automobile. Indoors, during a severe storm, avoid open windows and doorways, fireplace, metal objects such as the kitchen sink, and the television set, especially if the latter has an aerial.

Lightning rods, which people use to poke fun at, really do work. A good system, properly grounded, can offer valuable protection to home and other buildings, and lightning rods properly installed in a tree top may protect a herd of cattle that customarily seeks shelter under the tree.



MANY YARDS of earth are moved every year in the area in carrying out various soil and water conservation practices under the technical supervision of the Soil Conservation Service. (Farm Front Photo)

Farm Sector Of Red China In Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says Communist China is facing a food shortage of major proportions.

Although detailed information is scarce, the department said, it has become well established that a combination of mismanagement in the farm collectives, natural disasters and excessive exploitation of the farm sector of the economy has precipitated the crisis.

The ferment in Red China was brought to world attention recently as thousands of Chinese fled from the mainland to Hong Kong before brakes were put on the exodus.

CRUCIAL YEAR

"The Communist Chinese government stands on the threshold of a crucial year," the department said.

"Another year of managerial bungling in agricultural production or widespread natural disasters, or some combination of these factors, could tax the current regime in the form of increased apathy and civil disobedience, perhaps to the point of political instability."

The department said it has become increasinagly difficult to estimate the status of the economy of Communist China since the beginning of what the Reds call the "great leap forward" in 1958.

"Aside from specific reports of food shortages and malnutrition" the department said, "the magnitude of Chinese Communist food purchases from other nations at the expense of imports of industrial equipment indicates that the Communist regime has given priority to the need for food over the need for industrial development.

"Furthermore, the communique released at the close of the National Peoples Congress (in April) indicates that there has been a major shift in Communist policy with regard to the respective claims by agriculture and industry on the use of available labor and capital."

Official Communist Chinese statistics have been unreliable, the department said, although the "grossly exaggerated claims made since the completion of the collectivization of agriculture in 1956" have been revised.

Since 1958, the department said, the only available information has been gleaned from mainland publications, refugee statements and the comments of the few foreign travelers who have been permitted to enter the country.

"No figures have been published on the performance of agriculture for 1961 and none are available for the individual grain crops since 1958," the department said.

RESTATED

The department said that for agriculture, the "great leap forward" is now restated as "readjustment, consolidation, fulfillment, and improvement."

"The official policy advocating communal mess halls was quietly dropped in 1961," the department said.

The United States has been keeping a close look at the impact of Communist China's food imports on the world's grain trade, repercussions of Chinese sales of precious metals on the silver market and increased shipping rates resulting from movement of grain to China.

For 1961, the Chinese Communists signed purchase agreements for more than 6 million tons of grain, including wheat, barley, rice, oats, corn and wheat flour. Agreements signed for shipment in 1962 now total 3.5 million tons. Most of this grain is coming from Canada and Australia.

The pressure of food shortages on the mainland, the department said, has not kept the Communists from fulfilling commitments to ship food outside—such as to Cuba, Ceylon, Albania and East Germany.

However, the department said, it is generally believed that food purchases have shrunk Chinese Communist foreign exchange reserves to the vanishing point.

WANTS FIVE STATIONS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Federal Communications Commission Chairman Newton N. Minow said Sunday that metropolitan areas ought to have at least five television stations.

Minow said "we would like to see, as a matter of general national policy, room for all three network services. . .plus a chance for an independent station, plus an educational station.

Farm Century Is Retraced In Yearbook

A century of developments in the field of agriculture is traced in the recently published 1962 Yearbook of Agriculture, "After A Hundred Years."

The yearbook is the latest in a series that dates back to 1849, before the Department of Agriculture was established. It is a congressional document prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and publishd under direct congressional authorization.

Copies are distributed mainly by members of Congress.

PUBLISHED

The book was published May 15, on the 100th birthday of the Department of Agriculture. In its 704 pages it describes a century of developments in the breeding of plants and animals, control of insects conservation of land and forests marketing and economics, home economics, technology and communications.

The volume explores in detail the background of vast changes in agriculture, and its meaning to people in city and country.

NEW METHODS

New methods and tools of research are covered, as well as problems of farm income sharing the nation's abundance of food, and the growth of the Department of Agriculture.

Accounts of land - grant institutions and changes in rural living are also provided. One section is devoted to pictures and descriptions of farmers in nearly all of the states.

RED CROSS IN ALGERIA

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—The International Red Cross has distributed 3,000 tents to Algerian refugees returning to their war-torn homeland.

Conservation Highlights

Plants placed in farm ponds for purposes of beautification, sometimes develop into major problems.

This is the advice of S. R. Aycock, Ouachita Parish Soil Conservation Service work unit conservationist: "Keep water plants out of farm ponds."

He brought attention to a new bulletin available at all Soil Conservation Service offices in the state entitled, "Waterweed Control on Farms and Ranches."

SERIOUS PROBLEM

The conservationist explained, "Waterweeds present a serious problem in agricultural water whether you impound it for irrigation, livestock, fish, wild ducks or for other purposes."

Weeds have always been a problem in pastures and fields, but their threat does not end at the water's edge. There are more than 23,000 farm ponds in Louisiana in addition to numerous other reservoirs offering the opportunity for the spread of waterweeds.

The bulletin reports that at least 100 troublesome waterweeds grow in the south, and according to H. B. Martin, state conservationist with SCS at Alexandria, "You can expect some kind of waterweeds or troublesome water plants to invade most impoundments unless you manage the water and the plants to prevent or control them. Prevention is the best answer to the problem."

PREVENTION

Briefly, the bulletin offers this advice on preventing waterweeds:

On marshy edges, deepen edges and fill them in.

In open water, fertilize enough to shade out sunlight and keep organic matter to a minimum.

On controlling waterweeds, it suggests:

On areas around ponds, allow livestock to graze, or mow grasses, shrubs and vines.

In brackish widgeongrass duckponds, keep millet to control branched - filament algae.

Keep Israeli carp in fresh water ponds to control branched-filament algae.

Single - filament algae may be controlled by use of copper sulfate or placing of algae eating fish in the pond.

For edge and marsh plants, use a spray of esters of 2, 4-D in diesel oil (dalaphen or 2,4-D may be used on cattails).

Use ammate, 2,4-D, silvex, or 2,4,-T for troublesome shrubs and trees around ponds.

SUBMERSED WEEDS

Most submersed weeds in ponds growing separately or with duckweeds, will yield to sodium arsenite, silvex or 2,4-D granules.

For submersed weeds in southern latitudes, apply fertilizer on the weed beds in winter.

Where submersed weeds are in irrigation and drainage ditches use aromatic solvents with emulsifiers.

Use 2,4-D granules or silvex against waterlilies and watershield.

For water-hyacinths, spray frequently with amine salts of 2,4-D mixed with water.

Sodium arsenite is effective against waterlettuce.

Twins Press Yanks For American League Command

Bums Widen National Gap Over Giants

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

It always comes as a shock, but maybe you'd better brace yourself now because it could be twins!

Ralph Houk gags on his cigar every time he even thinks about it.

Same Mele takes a different view. He rather likes the idea and the reason he's beaming so proudly today is because his lightly-regarded Minnesota Twins are in a virtual first-place tie with the high and mighty New York Yankees.

To rub it in a bit, the Twins moved into co - ownership of the American League lead by using the Yankees' favorite weapon — the home run. They hit a total of six in sweeping a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 8-4 and 11-7, Sunday.

Don Mincher, Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew each connected in the opener as Jim Kaat turned in his fifth victory and then Zoilo Versalles, Bob Allison and Lonny Green reached the seats in the nightcap to help Camilo Pascual gain his eighth triumph.

YANKEES LOSE TWO

That made it a banner day all around for Mele and his Minnesotans, but it was a black one for the Yankees, who dropped 5-1 and 7-2 decisions to the Baltimore Orioles.

Milt Pappas stopped the Yanks on six hits in the opener, which was decided early when Whitey Herzog homered in the second inning and Russ Snyder followed suit in the third. Both blows came off loser Ralph Terry.

Another pair of Baltimore homers by Brooks Robinson and Jackie Brandt made Skinny Brown the winner in the nightcap although he was nicked for two home runs himself by Clete Boyer.

The Cleveland Indians salvaged the second game of a doubleheader, 9-3, after the Boston Red Sox won the 11-inning opener, 4-3; Washington swept two games from Detroit, 2-1 and 5-4, and the Los Angeles Angels took a pair from the Kansas City A's, 14-6 and 6-5.

DODGERS WIDEN LEAD

The Los Angeles Dodgers widened their National League lead to 2½ games by beating the Houston Colts twice, 9-3 and 9-7; the St. Louis Cardinals stretched their winning streak to seven games with 6-5 and 13-3 victories over the skidding San Francisco Giants; the Philadelphia Phils won their opener with Cincinnati, 7-5, but the Reds took the nightcap, 9-2; Pittsburgh swept both ends from Milwaukee, 12-8 and 3-2, while the New York Mets beat the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, then lost the 10-inning nightcap, 5-4.

Rookie Bob Tillman's 11th inning homer, his third in as many games and ninth in 24 major league contests, powered the Red Sox to victory in the opener, but the Indians had an easy time in the nightcap as Barry Latman hurled an eight-hitter and John Romano, Tito Francona and Jerry Kindall each homered. Romano also homered in the first game.

Don Rudolph's five-hit pitching over the Tigers gave the Senators their first game victory and Ken Retzer singled home the winning run in the eighth inning of the nightcap after Washington battled back from a 4-1 deficit with the aid of Dale Long's two-run homer.

Billy Moran drove in six runs for the Angels in the opener against the A's with a homer, double, single and a bases - loaded walk, after which Leon Wagner signled home the winning run in the sixth inning of the finale. Ken McBride and Art Fowler were the winning pitchers.

DRYSDALE WINS TENTH

Don Drysdale won his 10th game for the Dodgers with a six-hitter over the Colts as Ron Fairly and Willie Davis each collected four hits in the opener. Rookie Joe Moeller Breezed to his fifth victory in the nightcap when the Dodgers rallied for six runs in the sixth inning on a homer by Norm Sherry, a triple, double, two walks and three Houston erros.

Curt Flood won the opener for the Cardinals with a two - run homer in the ninth and the Giants then went down to their sixth straight loss in the nightcap when Stan Musial's three - run homer highlighted a six-run rally in the fourth. Fred Whitfield also hit a three - run homer. Bobby Shantz and Ray Washburn were the winners.

A pair of homers by Wes Covington and the fine relief pitching of Jack Baldschun helped the Phils beat the Reds in the first of their two games, but home runs by Marty Keough, Frank Robinson, Gordy Coleman and Leo Cardenas made it a rout for Cincinnati in the nightcap. Jim Maloney gained his first victory with help in the seventh.

PIRATES BOMB BRAVES

The Pirates unleashed a 15-hit attack that included two home runs by Bill Mazeroski to swamp the Braves in the first game and Roy Face saved Earl Francis' third victory in the nightcap. Roberto Clemente doubled home what proved to be the winning run in the eight. Bob Friend was credited with his sixth win in the opener.

Dick Ellsworth's wild pitch in the sixth inning enabled Joe Christopher to score the winning run for the Mets in the opener. The Cubs trailed 4-1 in the eighth inning of the nightcap, but after Ernie Banks' pinch homer with two on and two out tied the score in the ninth, Andre Rodgers doubled home the winning run for the Cubs in the 10th.

Burdick Almost Let State Golf Championship Escape

Burt Burdick of La. State holds Burdick of Louisiana State holds his second straight Louisiana amateur golf title today, but he almost let it get away from him in the final round.

Burdick grabbed the lead after firing a two-under-par 68 in Sunday's third round. But his afternoon game skyrocketed to a 75 for a total of 286 for the tournament.

Jimmy Hoppen of Bogalusa picked up five strokes on Burdick as he toured the last round in par. But Hoppen fell one stroke short as he ended up with 287, tied for second with John Bird of Shreveport.

Hoppen won the runnerup spot in the first hole of a sudden death playoff.

Burdick, a 23-year-old physical education major from Baton Rouge, had rounds of 69-74 Thursday and Friday on the 6,430 Bayou DeSiard Country Club course.

Buddy Short of Lafayette finished fourth with 288. There was a three-way tie for fifth between Jack Rivers of Monroe, leader after the first two rounds; Clayton Cole of Monroe; and Shirley Picard of Lafayette, the qualifying medalist. All had 289.

Two rounds were played Sunday after rain canceled the first day's play.

Burdick, who has the National Amateur at Memphis and the Cotton States Invitational here in his golfing plans for September, was modest in victory.

"I got my share of putts and about 90 per cent better breaks than most of the guys ... that's why I'm here," said Burdick as he faced the gallery Sunday after accepting the championship trophy.

LITTLER'S OPINION

U.S. Open Should Have No Favorite

OAKMONT, Pa. (UPI) — Defending champion Gene Littler can't see why he should be favored to win the U.S. Open golf championship starting here Thursday despite his $25,000 victory in the Thunderbird Open.

His five under par 67 in the closing round Sunday at Clifton, N. J., earned him the biggest golf purse of the year and he finished 15 strokes ahead of Arnold Palmer, who will be favored in the Open.

"No one should ever be favored in a field which includes Palmer," said Littler, who drove here today from Clifton and plans to test the man-killing Oakmont course for the first time Tuesday.

"Besides I'm never the favorite — there's too much dog in me."

But if Palmer is favored for the one the golfers most want to win, the 31-year-old California, once regarded as a second Ben Hogan, is sure to be next in line in the betting odds.

HITTING IN GROOVE

"I'm hitting in a nice groove and I played well yesterday," said the quiet Littler, who lets his game do most of the talking for him, "I think I putted better here than I did when I won the Open last year at Oakland Hills.

"I'm pretty confident about my game. The only thing I'm concerned about is that I've never played Oakmont and I won't until tomorrow. That will give me only two practice rounds."

If Littler felt good about his game, so did Palmer. Palmer wanted to drop out of the Thunderbird after a 72 Friday but agreed to continue when tournament officials urged him to play it out.

"Now I'm glad I did, for I started hitting my irons yesterday for the first time in a long time. And I felt better physically, too. I got 15 hours sleep Saturday night and felt like a different man out there yesterday."

Palmer had a final round 70, which gave him a total of 290—15 strokes behind Littler.

PALMER RETURNS HOME

Palmer flew back to Latrobe, Pa., Sunday night and planned to practice there this morning, "mostly with those irons which have been bothering me until yesterday" and then come to Oakmont to play a round this afternoon.

Palmer's two-under-par finish netted him only $460, but it was more than enough to keep him in front of the money winnings race with a total of $60,331 — $6,627 more than Littler. Littler's big jackpot Sunday increased his earnings to $53,704.

Littler, who started out Sunday's final round in the Thunderbird, one stroke behind the leaders, wrapped up the tournament when he went out in 31, five under par. That put him beyond the reach of young Jack Nicklaus and Dow Finsterwald, who had started Sunday's play in front.

NICKLAUS COLLECTS $10,000

Littler's aggreate of 275 was 13-under-par and was two strokes better than Nicklaus, whose final round 35-35 — 70 for 277 was good for $10,000 second place money.

Finsterwald, finishing with a 73, and Wes Ellis, with a final round 71, tied for third place with 280's, worth $5,000 each.

Delta League

Carroll George struck out 21 batters as Swartz shut out Monroe, 1-0, while Southside outlasted West Monroe, 4-3, in the only Delta League baseball action Sunday afternoon.

League-leading McGuffee Construction Co. of Monroe - Calhoun took a forfeit victory over Ouachita, and second - place Chatham forfeited to Drew in the other scheduled matches.

McGuffee continued to dominate the race with a flawless 9-0 record and Chatham sports a 6-2 mark.

Swartz chalked up its fifth victory in eight outings by scoring on a walk, a single by Jimmy Lowery and a throwing error. Albert Baker was charged with the loss, Monroe's ninth of the season.

Bob Saterfield struck out 12, allowed only seven hits and led Southside's seven-hit attach with two singles in three at-bats. Southside now owns a 5-4 record.

Terry Reeves took the loss for West Monroe, which is 3-5 for the year.

Guyton Winner Of Yazoo Race

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP) —The first $6,000 Yazoo River marathon for outboard motorboats ended Sunday with Walter Guyton of Greenville the only driver to win double honors.

In the two-part race, Guyton had the best time in the P-1 class for the 79 miles upriver Saturday at 1:30:26, and was fastest on the return trip Sunday at 1:26:26.

Competing were 81 drivers from eight states.

Dixie, Pelican Opening Show Slated Tonight

Ceremonies officially opening the Dixie and Pelican baseball leagues of West Monroe will be held at Confederate Park tonight with the entire program going as previously planned except that the 15-inning exhibition has been cancelled in favor of two official league contests.

"After rain ruined our program scheduled for last Friday night we decided to cancel the 15-inning exhibition in which all ten teams would appear in five games of three innings each," Judge John McCormick, president of the leagues, said. "Instead, we'll move right into the championship races."

All teams in both leagues will be on hand at 5:30 p.m. in uniform for official team pictures. Opening ceremonies will begin at 6 o'clock with league, city, and parish officials participating and two Dixie League games will follow immediately after.

Patrick's Roofers meet Paper Workers in the first game, and Ouachita Federal faces Monroe Sand and Gravel in the nightcap.

The Pelican League's first official games will be played Tuesday evening, but the clubs will participate in tonight's ceremonies.

22-Game Fare For Tulane's Cage Machine

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Tulane University will play a 22-game basketball schedule next season, including home games with Southeastern Conference powerhouses Mississippi State and Kentucky.

The Greenies will help initiate the first annual Arkansas State Holiday tournament at Jonesboro, Ark.

Tulane also will play home games against SEC foes Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt, Mississippi and Louisiana State University. Conference games on the road are scheduled with Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Alabama and Auburn.

In December, the Greenies meet Southwestern of Memphis, Louisiana College, University of Texas and Rice University in preconference matches. The Wave will travel to Dallas and Waco, Tex. for non - conference games with Southern Methodist and Baylor.

7 STRAIGHT WINS

Sadecki Turning Point For Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"This is what you need to get over the hump," a happy Ray Sadecki said. The hump he was talking about was mighty large.

The 21-year-old left - handed pitcher, who won few friends last week in a hassle with St. Louis Cardinal management, made the remark after he defeated the San Francisco Giants 8-4 Saturday and got his first big league homer.

"What happened during the week is in the past," he said.

Manager Johnny Keane, who had few kind words for the $50,000 bonus baby when he fined him $250, obviously felt the same way. And the fine appeared to have helped shake the club out of its tailspin. The Redbirds, losers of eight in a row before the incident, now have seven straight victories.

"Sadecki looked like the Ray Sadecki we know him to be," Keane said. "He accepted the challenge and pitched like we know he can pitch. We need him. We always counted on him and now we know we can."

Keane fined Sadecki Tuesday night "for the poorest exhibition of effort I have ever seen on a major league diamond" after the pitcher faced five Cincinnati batters in relief and all five scored on two homers and two Sadecki errors.

Sadecki refused to come to work the next day and was suspended by General Manager Bing Devine.

All three stated their views in blunt language before they finally got together at a secret meeting and announced Sadecki was back on the job.

"I never did think there was anything wrong with me," Sadecki said, "but I was just running into trouble. I was getting pinned down early in the game and I couldn't do a thing."

It was more of the same in the first inning Saturday. Sadecki was bombed for two homers and three singles before he got out of it.

"The only thing I was thinking then was, this is a nightmare. I just had to try to fight my way out of it," he said. "Then we bombed back in the first, tied it up and I had another chance."

Oak Grove Wins From Tallulah

TALLULAH, La. (Special) — Micky Turner and Mike Vining teamed for a one-hit pitching effort as Oak Grove defeated Tallulah, 6-2, in a Pelican Baseball League game here Sunday, Oak Grove winning with a 4-run burst in the tenth inning.

Vining, the winner, hit a homer. Oak Grove now sports a 4-1 league record.

Peoples pitched all the way for Tallulah.

Biggest Entry List Prepared For Oil Event

LAFAYETTE, La. (UPI) —The biggest field in the 10 year history of the Gulf Coast Oil Center Golf Association's golf tournament is scheduled to tee off here Thursday.

Some 840 oilmen - turned - golfers are entered in the tournament which is billed as "the world's largest golf tournament in one location.

The tournament is sponsored by and played exclusively by golfers who receive a major part of their income from the oil industry.

Dick Patton of Fort Worth, Tex., an independent oil operator and two-time tournament champion, will be defending his title. Former tournament champions Jim Mangum of New Orleans and Leo Case and Harlow Gers, both of Lafayette, also are entered.

The entry list for this year's tournament overshadows last year record turnout of 816.

Chairman Bud Chalmers of Lafayette said this was the first year we had to close out our entry list."

While other tournaments, such as the U. S. Amateur and the National Open, have larger entry lists, regional eliminations cut the opening fields far below the number who play in the oilmen's tournament.

Texans Threat To Santa Clara Baseball Title

OMAHA (AP)—Texas was appropriately tall in the saddle and Santa Clara ready to defend its No. 1 collegiate rating in the 16th NCAA College World Series opening today.

John (Hi) Simmons' Missouri Tigers were back again to seek the title they have won once and made strong bids for twice.

Michigan was itching to add luster to its late-season comeback by taking home the championship a second time.

Eager to cut these favorites down to size were Holy Cross, also a previous winner, Ithaca, Colorado State College and Florida State.

The eight came to the finals as champions in their NCAA districts.

Texas, a team of veterans coached by one-time major leaguer Bibb Falk, is seeking its third NCAA title. Only Southern California, a teamknocked out of the running by Santa Clara, has won that many.

The double elimination tournament, in which a team must lose twice before it is out of the running, continues through Friday—or Saturday if an extra game is necessary to determine the champion.

Today's schedule (Times Eastern Standard).

12 moon—Holy Cross vs. Colorado.

3 p.m.—Michigan vs. Texas

7 p.m.—Missouri vs. Ithaca

9 p.m.—Santa Clara vs. Florida State.

Louisiana Net Athletes Win Crossett Open

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Players from Louisiana won most of the top honors in the Seventh Annual Open Tennis Tournament which ended here Sunday with semi - finals and finals.

Rain hampered play throughout the tournament until Sunday. The tourney was sanctioned by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Benny Walker, Shreveport, copped the junior boys championship by defeating John Jenassone, Alexandria, 6-2, 6-0.

Bobby Rogers, Laurel, Miss., won the boys singles title by defeating Freddy Sweatt, Newport, Ark., 6-8, 6-2, 6-4, in the finals.

Linda Hamel, Shreveport, won the girls singles, defeating Margaret Bray, Shreveport, 10-8, 6-4.

In junior boys doubles, Benny Walker and Jack Wilkerson, both of Shreveport, won by default over Murray Harding and Tommy Hudson Jr., both of Little Rock, when Hudson became ill and was unable to play.

Danny Romer and Wilkerson, both of Shreveport, copped the championship in the boys doubles by defeating Bill Hayes and Larry Back, both of Little Rock, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

In the girls doubles finals, Linda Hamel and Margaret Bray, both of Shreveport, won over Sandra Mitchell, Shreveport, and Joanne Martin, Atlanta, Ga., 6-4, 6-4.

Lorenzen Takes Atlanta's 500 Stock Car Race

ATLANTA (UPI)—Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., was declared winner Sunday of the Atlanta 500 stock car race which was stopped by rain at the 328-mile point. Lorenzen drove a 1962 Ford.

Dave Pearson was named second by officials who had to recheck cards when a dispute arose over whether Lorenzen or Pearson won.

The confusion was caused by the scoreboard's listing of Pearson as leader but the cards supported the officials call of Lorenzen.

Monroe Hosting Ruston; Bernice Visits Bastrop

Brown - Rivers - Scogin's Legion Juniors of Monroe return to the business of defending their district and state championship today when they host the James Contractors of Ruston at 7:30 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium.

Coach Ralph Sims' champs split an exhibition double header with Natchez, Miss., Sunday. B-R-S lost the opener, 4-3, but got 3-hit pitching from Randall Falling to win the nightcap, 6-3.

Bastrop's Baron Park will be the scene of an afternoon double header, meeting Bernice at 2 o'clock.

British See Feeble U.S. Golf Threat

HOYLAKE, England (UPI) — The weakest American contingent in three years teed off today in the British amateur golf championship that has been a jinx for invading Yanks whenever the tournament is staged at the Hoylake course.

The U.S. had a corner on the event from 1947 through 1955 but since then has managed to win the championship only in 1959 when Deane Beman defeated Bill Hyndman in an all - American final.

An estimated 30 Americans entered this year. Most of them figured their chances of success were low because of the strong winds whistling in from the nearby Irish Sea. The total U.S. listing is vague because several servicemen may have entered through local clubs.

Defending Champion Michael Bonallack is favored to repeat at this 6,984-yard course, which has blunted American hopes in 13 previous tourneys. All eight seeded players are British with the exception of South African champion John Hayes.

There are very few "name" players from the U.S., and with the withdrawal of Walker Cuppers Jimmy McHale Jr., Dale Morey and Robert Sweeney, chances were indeed dim for an American victory.

Reports For Training

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (UPI) — Tom Stith, two-time All-America from St. Bonaventure who was the New York Knickerbockers' No. 1 draft choice in 1961, reports to the club's summer training camp today, hopeful he has recovered completely from tuberculosis. Stith was hospitalized for nearly three months and has not had a basketball in his hands for nearly 15 months.

Sandra Haynie Scores First Tourney Win

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—A happy young Sandra Haynie said, "It was wonderful, wonderful" after pocketing her first victory in her second year of the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour.

The dynamic 19-year-old Fort Worth girl was elated after she sank a 5-foot putt on the 18th hole Sunday to edge Mickey Wright of Dallas by one stroke.

Little Miss Haynie's Civitan check was for $1,200 while Miss Wright, leading money winner among the ladies, got $950.

Miss Haynie thought her victory drive was gone after a triple bogey on the 15th hole when "I just couldn't get out of the trees." But she hung on the par the final three holes.

"Good putting carried me in," Miss Haynie said.

Her one-over par 75 gave her a four-day total of 289, just enough to clip Miss Wright's strong 73-finish for a 290 total.

Gloria Fecht of Los Angeles was alone in third place with 291 for $750 and Jackie Pung of Daly City, Calif. got $600 for a fourth place finish at 294.

Marilynn Smith of Tequesta, Fla. and Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M. each earned $485 in a fifth place tie with scores of 295.

Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C. faded to a 78 and a total of 296 in seventh place and $380.

EVERETT ZEAGLER

E. Zeagler Asks Second Term On Board

Ward three's Everett Zeagler is seeking re-election to the Ouachita Parish School Board.

Now rounding out his first term on the board, Zeagler issued the following statement to the citizens of ward three:

"I will feel honored and privileged if you allow me to represent you for another six years on the Ouachita Parish School Board.

"As a father of five children, and life-long resident of this community, my only purpose is to do all that I can to support the development of the finest school system possible with the funds that you, the taxpayers, are willing to make available to us.

"I have nothing to gain financially from any actions of the board, one way or the other. I owe no loyalty to anyone, except God, the United States of America, and my family.

"I have endeavored to serve with honor and dignity the best interests of the school children and taxpayers. With your permission, I will continue to do so, to the best of my ability."

Zeagler's desire to "help build a better school system" prompted him to run for school board office in 1956, and remains the factor behind the campaign for reelection in the July 28 first Democratic primary.

Three other men are in the race, for the two posts available on the ward three delegation.

While on the School Board, Zeagler has served as chairman of the Building and Finance Committee. He is a member of the School Building and Maintenance Committee, the Planning Committee, Purchasing Committee and the special I-20 Highway Committee.

"I support segregation," he pointed out, "and will to the fullest extent of the authority of the school board."

Newly elected president of the Monroe Association of Life Underwriters, Zeagler is district sales manager for the Farm Bureau Insurance companies.

He is a member of the First Methodist Church and of the Farm Bureau.

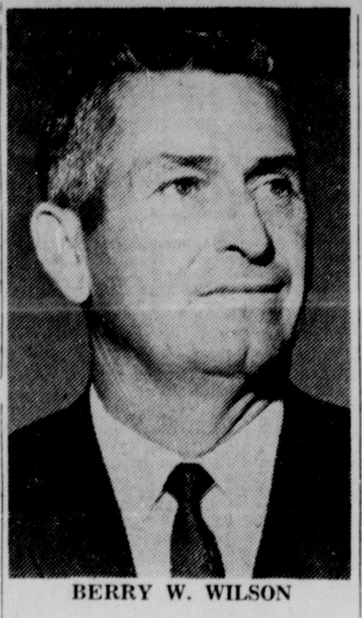
Mr. and Mrs. Zeagler and their children reside on the Columbia Road.

Philadelphia Girl Among Finalists

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Last Wednesday a newspaper item caught Alice Lineman's eye — the Miss Pennsylvania semifinals and finals of the Miss Universe contest were to be held in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Lineman told her daughter, Penny, 18, about it. Penny, a brown-haired, brown-eyed bank employe, thought it was just wonderful and said she'd love to enter.

On Thursday Penny phoned officials of the beauty pageant and told them she would like to enter. She did and was accepted.



BERRY W. WILSON

Berry Wilson Explains Goal If Elected

Berry W. Wilson brings experience as a teacher, Farmers' Home Administration supervisor and Olin Mathieson representative to his campaign for a ward five post on the Ouachita Parish School Board.

Wilson is one of 18 candidates for the two ward five seats.

Since 1954, he has been with the Chemicals Division of Olin Mathieson, and is now its area field representative.

Before that, he taught for the Veterans Farm Training Program. He served as county supervisor of the F.H.A. in Ouachita parish for four years.

"Our present school board and other responsible parties," says Wilson, "are to be commended for their fine work in providing adequate facilities for our school children.

"However, with our population increasing, this is a never ending problem requiring careful planning and cooperation of all Board members, parents and others.

"My experience ... leads me to believe that I am qualified to do the kind of a job our citizens demand and expect of their School Board members."

Wilson served with Patton's Third Army in Europe during World ar II.

He is a graduate of Kelly High School in Caldwell Parish, and of Louusiana State University. He also is a member of the Highland Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reside at 1410 Willis St. with their two sons, Glenn, a 1962 graduate of West Monroe High school, who will enter Northeast College this fall, Barry, a W.M.H.S. sophomore and their daughter, Rhonda.

W. L. Moore, Of Monroe, In Texas Post

William L. "Dub" Moore, son of Mrs. Julia Moore, 1411 South Grand street, and now director of public relations for the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., represented that group at the Nation-wide Staff Meeting for the National Society.

The meeting was held this past week end at Hotel Moraine-on-the-Lake, Highland Park, Ill.

Purpose of the meeting was to exchange ideas, report results of the previous Easter Seal Appeal and discuss plans for the coming year.

WILLIAM L. MOORE

Following the meeting, Moore left for New York City to confer with Sol Hurok about an appearance of Van Cliburn at the Texas Society's annual convention in Fort Worth in October.

Moore is responsible for coordinating the publicity through the state office for all the 94 local county societies in Texas.

A graduate of Louisiana State University he received his degree in general business. Prior to accepting the present post, he held administrative and public relation posts with several oil and gas companies in the Southwest.

Re-Examination Of U.S. Asian Policy Proposed

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., told a commencement day audience Sunday at Michigan State University that it's time for a re-examination of this nation's policy toward Southeast Asia.

The Senate majority leader and the administration's chief spokesman in that body said his support of President Kennedy does not preclude public discussion of present approaches, which he said will yield little to the people of this nation and little to the people of Southeast Asia.

Mansfield said he doubted that U. S. traffic security and other interests justify indefinite commitment to the unilateral defense of the area. Rather, he said, this nation should investigate "every possibility of minimizing the unilateral activity of the United States in Southeast Asia in every sphere."

He asked that we "Draw clearly the distinction between what is enduringly basic and what is transitory and peripheral in our interests with respect" to the area.

The unilateral supply of manpower and billions is at best "a mark-time course of immense costs" and "at worse, it's a collision course," he said.

Mansfield called for an "attempt to alter or modify" the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization if better ways of maintaining peace and independence in Southeast Asia can be found.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Should a clergyman phone in advance of visiting? No. There is too much tidying up and making coffee which turns a minister's call into a social affair when it is intended for deeper than social purposes. I've checked with three other ministers and three housewives and they are all in favor of the unannounced call from the clergy.

Sincerely,
REVEREND EARL ROADMAN

DEAR ABBY: I think people have a right to advance notice when a visitor comes, no matter who that visitor may be. People like to be received with kindness and in a becoming manner, and surprise visits do not always permit this. Courtesy should be made easy for a hostess instead of offering a sudden challenge to her ability to receive guests graciously.

Yours sincerely,
THE RT. REV. MONSIGNOR J. F. BRADY

DEAR ABBY: A clergyman, however well motivated, presumes too much when he thinks his visit is always welcome under all and any circumstances. A visit is always more welcome when the hostess has an opportunity to prepare herself. The informal, drop-in type visit sounds folksy and charming, but it is anything but that. In any well - ordered busy household it's an arrogant nuisance. The unexpected visit went out with the quilting bee.

Very truly yours,
RABBI STANLEY RABINOWITZ

DEAR ABBY: If I had to wait until I was INVITED, how many homes do you think I would get into? Have you ever tried to phone a dozen people in one day, with a mind to get into their home that is? Pastors should not be put in the same category with salesmen, campaigners, census-takers and strangers. I enjoy your column — most of the time.

PASTOR

DEAR ABBY: My Dad is a Baptist preacher and I know for a fact that preachers do not have time to call everyone they visit. If people are doing something they want to cover up from the preacher, what are they going to do when Jesus comes?

PREACHER'S DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: Do you know the average clergyman works 14 hours a day, including Saturdays and Sundays? He makes calls between sermon preparations, meetings, civic work, classes, weddings, funerals, hospital calls and counseling. Everyone thinks his clergyman has nothing to do. How in the world do you expect him to telephone on Tuesday to warn Mrs. X to clean house for Thursday? Besides, a clergyman wants to find the REAL person, not an artificial dressed - up one. Why should he drive himself into a nervous breakdown just to satisfy some house-proud women?

Storms Continue In Great Plains

By United Press International

Tornadoes and thunderstorms which caused at least one death Sunday continued to batter sections of the great plains during the night.

Heavy rains caused flash flooding in Oklahoma, Iowa and Texas.

Dry goods dealer Robert Heald, 52, was killed when struck by lightning while water skiing near Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

A number of persons were injured when a tornado-like storm unroofed a motel, overturned house trailers, damaged a new high school and uprooted trees at Indianapola, Iowa, touching off a fire.

A woman was hurt when the car in which she was riding smashed into a mud slide on a highway near Des Moines, Iowa.

The Weather Bureau reported that a tornado touched down near Springfield, Mo. There was an unconfirmed report that a twister touched ground near Greenfield, Mo., about 30 miles from Springfield, but there was no damage.

Two tornadoes were sighed near Austin, Tex., but there was no report of damage. However, 55-mile winds hammered the Texas capital city and thunderstorms dropped golf ball-size hail and 1.5 inches of rain in 30 minutes. Water ran curb-deep through Austin streets, blocking one thoroughfare.

Crutsinger Funeral Held

MINDEN (Special) — Funeral services have been held for Mrs. Mattie Crutsinger, 65, of Minden, who died late Thursday after suffering a heart attack. She was the sister of Mrs. William Wood of Monroe.

Services were at 10 a.m. Saturday, with interment in the Minden cemetery.

Mrs. Crutsinger was the widow of Dr. Paul Crutsinger of Minden.

Born at Dubberly, she was the daughter of the late Dr. R. W. Smith, attended Louisiana Tech, and was a member of the First Methodist church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Lou LaConte, Boston, Mass. and Mrs. Frank Griffith, Lafayette; two sisters, Mrs. D. A. Woodard, Shreveport and Mrs. Wood, Smith, Heflin and Capt. H. L. Monroe; two brothers, W. B. Smith, Shreveport; and two granddaughters.

Shareholders Of United Gas To Convene June 20

SHREVEPORT (Special) — The annual 1962 shareholders meeting of United Gas Corporation will be held at company headquarters here at 11 a.m. CST on Wednesday, June 20, it was announced today by Ed Parkes, president.

Agenda for the shareholders meeting will include the president's report, election of the board of directors for the ensuing year and the appointment of a public accountant to audit the books of the company.

United Gas, one of the world's largest handlers of natural gas has shareholders in all 50 states, in many U. S. possessions and in other parts of the world. More than 400 shareholders are expected to attend the meeting.

United Gas employees, directors and their families now own 332,813 shares of the company's stock, comprising as a group United's sixth largest shareholder, according to Parkes. "We are very proud of our employees' proprietary interest in United Gas," Parkes said. "More than 87 per cent of eligible employees participate in the company's stock purchase plan."

MUNDT CLAIMS

Freeman Regrets Estes Remark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman now wishes he never said that the Billie Sol Estes case was being ballooned out of all proportions, says Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S. D.

Mundt, senior Republican on the Senate Investigations subcommittee that starts public hearings June 27 on Estes' operations said he discussed the case with Freeman recently for an hour and a half.

"He indicated that the first statement that he made to the press — when he said it was being blown out of all proportion — was one of those statements all of us sometime make but we wish we could retract, because the thing is a lot more serious than he thought it was at the time," said Mundt.

Freeman made the remark at a news conference May 7.

Estes, a West Texas promoter and financier, built a multimillion - dollar business on government grain storage, cotton and sales of fertilizer. He was indicted in April for fraud and he has declared himself bankrupt. The Senate subcommittee and a House group are investigating his operations and whether he received favored treatment from federal officials. Mundt said he had.

Interviewed by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N. Y., on a program taped for radio and television stations in New York, Mundt contended the Agriculture Department showed favoritism to Estes by not requiring him to carry an adequate bond for storing government grain.

Estes' bond was set at $700,000 although he was storing grain valued up to $50 million. Agriculture Department officers have testified before the House subcommittee that the bond was based on an inaccurate audit Estes submitted on his net worth.

Mundt, saying the audit should have been thrown out, called the bond "one of the basic elements of the favoritism displayed. Of course there were others. One of them was when they appointed him to the National Advisory Cotton Council after he had already been fined and was already suspect by their own investigators."

This was in reference to the investigation of Estes' scheme of getting other cotton growers' allotments so that he could grow more cotton under price supports. The Agriculture Department finally ruled the plan illegal and fined him $554,172.

Mundt credited career Agriculturde Department employes with doing a tremendous job in probing the transfer of cotton allotments to Estes.

Taxpayer High On Agenda In Congress Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate and House plunge into a full week of business this week for the first time this year.

A little bit of something for almost everybody but the taxpayers is on an unusually heavy docket.

Two appropriation bills top a group of four big bills in the Senate. They call for an outlay of $48 billion to finance the Defense Department for the fiscal year starting next month and $932 million for the Interior Department. Both have passed the House.

Once they are out of the way, the Senate plans to take up bills dealing with all-channel television and a space communications satellite system. They, too, have passed the House.

The House starts its week with a bill to take care of women workers. It would provide that women should receive the same pay as men if they do the same work.

Tuesday the House will take up the controversial Fryingpan-Arkansas reclamation project.

That will be followed on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by bills to increase the statutory national debt limit to $308 billion and to write a controversial new farm program.

Committee activity will be highlighted by continuation of the Billie Sol Estes investigation by a House Government Operations subcommittee and by renewed wrestling with a general tax bill by the Senate Finance Committee.

PAR Exhorts State To Practice Gov't Restraint

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — The Public Affairs Research Council has warned that until the people of Louisiana "learn to exercise restraint and common sense in seeking state government participation in their affairs, they will continue to be saddled with a large, complex and expensive state government."

In its weekly legislative bulletin, the non-partisan, private research council that neither the state legislature nor the state's "Little Hoover Commission" can be expected to take effective steps to streamline the state government unless the people of Louisiana make their wishes known.

The council partially blamed the people for the complex and oversized government and for the failure of any significant steps to reorganize it.

The council said the people of the state "have developed the habit of looking to the legislature for new state agencies to handle whatever matters concern them... whether they may be primarily local affairs...or even such comparatively simple matters as the care of statues and landmarks."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
•Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Rubin Declines Comment On School Post Story

NEW YORK (AP) — Max Rubin, president of the New York City Board of Education, has declined comment on reports the board has offered a post as deputy superintendent to Dr. James F. Redmond, former superintendent of New Orleans schools.

In response to a report in The New York Times Saturday, Rubin said the board would have no comment until someone has actually been engaged for the job. He said Dr. Redmond hadn't been engaged as of Saturday night.

The Times said Dr. Redmond also declined comment. He has been working for a management consultant firm since he resigned as New Orleans superintendent last year.

Biggest Blast Of Ocean Series Set

By ROBERT MYERS

HONOLULU (AP) — Extension of the United States high altitude danger area around Johnston Island was seen today as a preliminary to the firing of the biggest nuclear blast of the Pacific test series.

There was no official comment from Joint Task Force 8 on the precise altitude and size of the detonation but unofficial sources said it will be from 50 to 500 times as powerful as the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima.

There have been reports it will be of several megatons in force. A megaton blast is the equivalent of the explosion of a million tons of TNT.

The big blast will be set off about 200 miles high, the sources said. It will be the highest and biggest nuclear shot in U.S. history and will be seen in Hawaii, 750 miles northeast of Johnston.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department announced Saturday that the nuclear danger area surrounding Johnston Island will be extended 60 miles by Tuesday to a radius of 530 nautical miles at sea level. It will be increased 290 nautical miles at 30,000 feet, to a radius of 990 miles.

The zone will be extended 10,000 feet in altitude to a height of 40,000 feet, where the radius will be 1,050 miles. At 30,000 feet the zone will cover the entire Hawaiian Island chain.

The zone is being extended to mark the "eye burn" area in which there could be a hazard from looking directly at the blast through binoculars, periscopes or other optical instruments. The spokesman said it could lead to permanent eye damage or possible blindness.

He said there will be no hazard to Hawaii residents who view the fireball with the naked eye from surface levels.

The extension announcement indicated the shot will not come before Thursday, in the hours of darkness, because of the four-day warning that is given air lines. A Joint Task Force 8 spokesman indicated a possible firing during next weekend.

"Maybe this one," the spokesman said, "will show them what they want to know."

The device will be carried aloft by a Thor missile, the type destroyed in the air because of a tracking system malfunction on last Monday's big shot attempt.

The detonation is expected to disrupt radio communications in the Pacific. The Federal Aviation Agency said it may be necessary to ground aircraft for as much as 24 hours after the blast.

A low megaton device—one of the largest in the current series — was exploded Sunday over Christmas Island. It was the 17th shot in the series and third in as many days.

Father Of Seven Wins Degree

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Andrew Romano, 34, father of seven children, won his bachelor of science degree Sunday at the University of Rochester after 15 years of night school study.

Romano, a junior chemist at Bell & Howell Co. said his wife's patience and understanding helped him see it through. His six daughters and one son range in age from one to 10 years.

Army Announces New Weapon

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. announced today development of a new antiormor, antifortification guided missile by its aeronutronic division. Few details were given but a picture released with the announcement shows the weapon being fired from a tank.

The new missile has been named the Shillelagh and is described as designed for close-in support of troops.

Ford said it will provide "high first-round hard-target kill capabilities," but declined additional information on grounds it is classified.

'Samaritan' Bill Opposed

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) —Rep. Mike John's "Good Samaritan" bill to make doctors not libel for services rendered at the "scene of an emergnecy" ran into opposition Sunday night.

John returned the bill the calendar after Rep. Ford Stinson of Bossier said he wanted to change the bill to a doctors not libel at the scenes of accidents.

"I wouldn't have any objection to the bill if we changed it to apply to the scene of an accident, but an emergency could be anytime, anyplace," Stinson said.

John explained to the house that the bill covered physicians, surgeons, registered nurses, dentists and dental technicians.

In addition, the measure provides that "anyone" who renders treatment to an injrued person at the "scene of an emergency" could not be sued.

"Do you think that the doctors will be sober and right all the time?" asked Rep. Herbert V. Fondren of St. Mary parish.

"Yessir, I do," answered John.

"Are you attempting to stand up here and say that doctors don't drink?" Fondren asked.

"No sir, I'm not saying that; you are," John answered.

John pointed out that the bill did not cover physicians handling cases in hospitals or physicians who are called out on a case.

The Monroe solon refers to the measure as his "Good Samaritan" bill.

Quiet Settles Over Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A silence broken only by minor patrol clashes has settled over South Viet Nam's fighting zones, military sources reported today.

Following a week of relatively heavy action and mass attacks on Communist guerrillas, fighting dwindled off Saturday afternoon, American and Vietnamese officials said.

Crossett Plant Expansion Cited

CROSSETT, Ark., (Special) — A new million dollar expansion program at the Simplex Paper Corporation's Crossett plant has now been completed and the firm has gone into full production on a three-shift schedule, according to plant manager, C. M. Vozar.

The new addition at Simplex will allow them to coat bleached food board which will be used in the manufacture of milk cartons and other food containers. When fully staffed the new plant expansion will mean an additional 50 to 60 persons will be added to the Simplex payroll.

No Unblemish

CLEAR LAKE, Wis. (UPI) — Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson launched his campaign for the U.S. Senate in his home town Sunday night with some misgivings.

He admitted to residents that he "broke too many windows with a BB gun here to tell you I have an unblemished record."

Producers Say Pulpwood In 'Squeeze'

WINNFIELD (Special) — The pulpwood industry, one of Winn Parish's main livelihoods, is caught in a harsh cost-price squeeze, according to producers.

Producers met here over the weekend with officials of the Pulpwood Producers Association of Louisiana, Inc., and an AFL-CIO representative.

John W. Tanner, president of the association, of Shreveport, and L. E. Black of Monroe, AFL-CIO staff field representative, of Monroe, discussed costs and prices.

They said that the last purchase price increase for pulpwood in this area was in 1952, while costs of trucks, gas, oil, special equipment and other essentials necessary for production, had steadily risen to a point where producers are unable to risk expenditures for new equipment, repairs and replacements for worn-out equipment.

One committeeman from each of the four pulpwood yards in Winnfield was appointed to represent the producers at a special state-wide meeting of association committeemen Friday in Shreveport.

They were L. L. Brewton Pulp Wood - International Paper, Co., J. L. Allen; Olin-Mathieson Pulpwood Yard, Ed Bundrick; Tremont Lumber Co., Wallace Higgs; J. K. Martin Pulpwood Co., Jim Martin.

Wreck Victims' Rites Scheduled 2 Places Today

BASTROP (Special) — Two services were scheduled to be held for Billy Ray Carlton, 19, of Bastrop, who was killed Saturday night in an auto accident. He was the grandson of Mrs. Ella Sammons, the half-brother of Larry Lee Brown, and a half-sister Mrs. Mary N. Moore, all of Monroe.

A short service was scheduled to be held at 1 p.m. today in the Blackwell and Golden Chapel in Bastrop followed by another service scheduled to be held in the Assembly of God Church in Monroe. The Rev. Kendall and the Rev. Blair were to officiate.

Burial was to be in Memorial Park Cemetery in Monroe under the direction of Blackwell and Golden Funeral Home of Bastrop.

A native of Monroe, Mr. Carlton had resided in Morehouse Parish the past 10 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha Carlton, a son, Billy Ray Jr., a sister Carolyn Ann Carlton, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Carlton, all of Bastrop; and two other half-brothers, Bobby B. Brown, Bastrop and Elmore A. Brown, Baton Rouge.

Pallbearers were to be Nathan Graves, Wesley Kendall, Louis McKee, Ronald Semmons, Donald Brown and Eugene Copland.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"
New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials of normal regularity
As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.
Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs frequently cramp and gripe. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).
(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unique rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.
COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —Louis C. LaCour of New Orleans was sworn in over the weekend as United States attorney for the Eastern District of Louisiana.

LaCour, a former assistant district attorney in New Orleans received the oath of office from U.S. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry.

Miss Kathleen Ruddell had held the post in the interim period since M. Hepburn Many resigned last Dec. 31.

Garment Plant Pledges Made

HAMBURG, Ark. (Special) — Pledges totaling $50,000 have been signed by Hamburg citizens, and the ground work was laid for the calling of a county-wide $335,000 bond issue to insure the location of a garment plant in Hamburg.

It is expected that the bond issue will call for a one-mill tax that will carry for about four and one-half years. At the end of that time the training costs and other start-up expenses estimated at $85,000 should be met and the balance of the bond issue will be paid for by rent the firm would pay on the building.

Pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the Police Jury of the Parish, State of Louisiana, on the 9th day of May, 1962, and in compliance with the provisions of Section 3882 of Title 33 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN of the intention of the Police Jury of the Parish of Ouachita, to create a sewerage district within the Parish of Ouachita, State of Louisiana, which sewerage district will include, comprise and embrace all of the territory within the following described boundaries, or so much thereof as may be determined upon, to wit:

Unit No. 1 of North Monroe Subdivision, in Sections 4 and 5, Township 18 North, Range 4 East, Ouachita Parish, Louisiana, as per plat of record in Plat Book 9, page 4, Records of Ouachita Parish, Louisiana, Bounded on the North by Delery's Island Colony, on the East by the Old-Monroe-Sterlington Road, on the South by Fink's Hide-A-Way Road, and on the West by the East boundary of the Dysart Addition.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that the Police Jury of the Parish of Ouachita, State of Louisiana, will meet in public session at its regular meeting place, the Police Jury Room of the Courthouse, Monroe, Louisiana, on the 11th day of July, 1962, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., at which time and place it will hear any and all objections to the creation of the proposed sewerage district, and the boundaries thereof, and after disposing of all objections, if it determines to do so, will adopt an ordinance creating said sewerage district, fixing the boundaries thereof, and giving the said sewerage district a numerical designation and name, and appoint three property taxpayers residing within the sewerage district as a board of supervisors to act as the governing authority of said sewerage district.

THUS DONE AND SIGNED at Monroe, Louisiana, on this, the 9th day of May, 1962.

M. W. MONTGOMERY,
President.
(s) Miss Nell Cheek,
Secretary.
Monroe, La.,
June 4, 11, 18 and 25, 1962.

SALESMAN WANTED!
Experience Unnecessary

DUE to our rapid growth and expansion we must hire another salesmen. We need a man who must be at least 24 years old, he must have a pleasing personality, he must be neat and he should have a good education because he'll be joining a sales staff of which the majority are college graduates, and every member has had some college training. But most of all, we want a man who is ambitious. And if he is ambitious, he will earn $400 or more per month while in training, even if he's had no experience at all in the automotive sales field.
If you think that you can qualify for this job, stop in today and ask for Mr. Tubbs of Northeast Motors, N. 3rd and Breard.

ROUTE SALESMAN and Collector for Rayville, Delhi and Winnsboro. Must live in either one of these towns. Good salary and profit sharing retirement plan. Call FA 3-8145 between 8 and 10 a.m. or write P. O. Box 1722, Monroe.

A CAREER not just a job. I'm looking for the right man to work in an established insurance debit for Common Wealth Life and Accident Insurance Co. in Bastrop and Monroe. Good salary plus commission and company benefits. To qualify you must be married, own a car, be neat and willing to work. Contact Mr. G. F. Fox from 7 to 10 a.m. and after 7 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Alvis Hotel, Monroe, La.

Railroads Consider Rate Boost As Wages Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the nation's railroads, particularly those in the East, are considering moves to boost passenger and freight rates to help pay for new wage and benefit increases for rail workers.

The carriers have just accepted with unions representing about 500,000 off-train workers a settlement recommended by a White House emergency board and estimated to increase carrier labor costs by $105 million.

If unions representing about 200,000 on-train rail employes win a similar wage settlement, the extra labor cost would mount to an estimated $180 million a year, according to the Association of Americ Railroads.

This total additional expense would not be wholly applied against railroad net income, which ran to the low figure of $382 million in 1961, because carriers earning profits could claim the new labor charges as tax deductible business expenses. But profits would tend to be lower.

The railroads, still in negotiations with the on-train unions over proposals of another White House board to reduce train crews and make other manpower economies to end so-called featherbedding practices, are hopeful of realizing economies. But the prospect is uncertain.

Eastern railroads sustained an estimated loss of nearly $100 million last year while Southern and Western roads fared better.

The Eastern roads may seek to absorb through fares repeal of the 10 per cent excise tax on train tickets that Congress is expected to adopt effective next Jan. 1. Chairman Wilbur K. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee so indicated in House debate last week, although he said he understands Southern and Western roads will let the tax repeal reduce their passenger fares.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the Western Carriers Conference Committee, chief labor negotiator for the industry, indicated some railroads may have to apply for freight rate increases and again may have to reduce their work forces.

Loan Group Does Tax Bill Switch

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Savings and Loan League has broken off its battle against a withholding tax on interest and dividends — a key provision of President Kennedy's tax reform bill.

The group had been one of the strongest opponents of the withholding plan, but a Treasury spokesman said Sunday the league had written Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon that it was dropping its opposition.

The tax bill has been passed by the House and is now being studied by the Senate Finance Committee where it is under sharp attack.

The league was a principal source of thousands of letters written to Congress members by savings and loan officials and depositors urging elimination of the withholding provision.

The campaign brought a rebuke from Kennedy at a news conference May 9. He said the mail reaching the White House and the Capitol indicated a great number of people have been badly misinformed by advertisements and circulars financed by savings and loan associations, banks and other groups.

But whether the league's change in policy will give the tax revision bill a boost was questionable.

Last week it was reported to be in deep trouble in the Senate Finance Committee. Its chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, opposes the withholding plan and the other key provision, tax credits for plant and equipment modernization.

Former Call House Madam, Polly Adler, Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former call house madam Polly Adler, who wrote "A House Is Not a Home" about her experiences, died of cancer Saturday.

Miss Adler, 62, freely admitted in her 1953 book that she spent 25 years running a house of prostitution in New York City.

Miss Adler said she wrote her autobiography because she was left without money by police crackdowns and income tax suits. It sold 100,000 copies.

In the book she told of frequent police raids and of paying thousands in bribes plus entertaining authorities to avoid being put out of business.

She was arrested in 1935 and pleaded guilty to a charge of conducting a disorderly house. She was fined $500 and served 24 days of a 30-day sentence.

U.S. Space Program To Take On Military Tone

NEW YORK (AP) — The Defense Department is embarking upon a man-in-space program to prevent military control of space by the Soviet Union, the New York Times said today.

The nation's space program, until now largely a civilian program, is set to acquire a military tinge, a Washington dispatch to the Times said.

After years of reluctance and opposition, the Defense Department has finally accepted the need for a military space program aimed at conrtol of space as well as its exploration.

As a result, the department has decided that the Air Force should develop the technology for a manned satellite capable of inspecting and destroying a hostile vehicle in space.

Beyond this decision, the department—at the urging of the White House and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration—has undertaken a six-month study to draft an enlarged military space program.

As explained by defense officials, the Air Force will not be given a go-ahead immediately to develop a large-scale, operational system of manned satellites but will develop the technology, components and subsystems required in an eventual system.

The expectation is that funds for this purpose will be included in the military budget to be presented in January for the 1964 fiscal year.
